VERDICT OF $1200 FOR PLAINTIFF CANNON AND RIFLE SILENCED ON WEEK OLD BABY BOY DESERTED

Patrick Gorman Wins in Action Against Boston & Maine R. R. —Williams Case Resumed

The jury in the case of Patrick Gorman against the Boston & Maine railroad returned a verdict for the plaintiff in the sum of $1200 late yesterday afternoon. Messrs. J. Joseph O'Connor and Jeremiah J. O'Sullivan appeared for the plaintiff and the defendant was represented by Messrs. Fred N. Wier and Larkin Trull.

Gorman was employed in the coal pocket of the Boston & Maine railroad in Howard street a year ago last July when a large piece of coal fell from a hopper, striking him on the head and causing a fracture of the skull.

LIVELY BOUT IN POLICE COURT

Assault and Battery Case Furnished Amusement For the Spectators Today

The police court session this morning included a few lively bouts. The preliminaries were, it is true, rather disappointing, although there were two men who spent the night in the lock-up after a celebration and they had interesting yarns to spin. The spectators evinced a passing interest in these, but it was plain they were waiting eagerly for the main exhibition.

Last His Personality

Lawrence Bailey was the subject of a peculiar experience and doubtless a trying one for him. When arrested, Lawrence had in his possession a suit case which he easily seen did not belong to himself, for it contained articles that were wholly unsuited to his taste and manifestly the property of a gentleman of foreign birth.

Lawrence was there with a ready explanation of the mystery. He underwent the misfortune, he said, of succumbing to the evil influence of intoxicating beverages and while in this condition, someone took the liberty of exchanging suit cases with him, and in place of his own, left him one that contained articles of absolutely no use to the defendant. He expressed his sorrow at the unhappy incident and requested another chance on probation, as he has a good job. A sentence of four months in jail was suspended.

Uninvited and Unexpected

Fred S. Fuller, according to the accounts of the police, believes in living up to his name, for he was tumbled last evening that he has been in some time past. Freddie tumbled about the city like a ship that had lost its rudder, until late finally he fell to the door of the police station. Now there was no policeman sign on the door, nor on the street, but nevertheless the man decided to make this his port and he entered to find exhausted and completely "in" on the floor. The police found him there and stated that poor Fred was absolutely helpless, that he could not even speak. It was necessary to carry him to the lock-up. It developed this morning that Fuller is no stranger in the police circles, but has been several times admitted to that select society, on each occasion giving a different name. The next port will be the house of correction and he will be in dry dock there for some time.

The Other Preliminary

William Monahan had his financial standing decreased by an amount of $6 for drunkenness and Leonard H. Morse suffered the same painful operation. There were a number of new candidates and they paid an initiation fee of $2 each.

Favorite Host the Bell

John Mastoras challenged John Bacos to a bout some time ago and owing to a delay in the final arrangements the two did not come together until this morning. A charge of assault and battery of Bacos upon Mastoras was

Witnesses for the Defense

The case of Frank J. Williams against the Massachusetts cotton mills which opened before Judge McLaughlin in the superior court yesterday was resumed this morning and witnesses for the defense were heard.

The plaintiff in his declaration states that while he was working on a heavy wagon in the Prescott mill yard in December, 1910, the horses attached to the wagon on which he was standing were started, causing a bale of cotton to fall on him and fracture his leg.

THE BALKAN BATTLEFIELD

Russia Replies to What She Terms "Rattling of German Sword"—She May Take Drastic Measures

LONDON, Dec. 4.—Cannon and rifle have been silenced on the Balkan battlefield with the signature of the armistice last evening or at least they will be as soon as word of the truce can reach the more isolated combatants.

The tangle among the great powers, however, persists and becomes even more accentuated as the days pass without the discovery of a means of unravelling it. Russia has retorted to what she terms the "rattling of the German sword" by the imperial chancellor by saying that the reputation of the methods resorted to by the period when the occupation by Austro-Hungary of Bosnia and Herzegovina caused a crisis will not now be admitted.

The prominence given by Chancellor Von Bethmann-Hollweg to the idea of war was resented by the newspapers of St. Petersburg.

The general trend of their comment is voiced by the Novoye Vremya, which says:

"History is repeating itself, but it is not so easy now to force Russian diplomacy into a fatal hearted retreat. Such intimidation will frighten nobody."

The immediate withdrawal of the vast Russian deposits in the German banks is advocated by many of the Russian journals.

The war parties both in Russia and Austria-Hungary seem to hold the platform for the moment against the peaceably disposed ministers.

If Austria-Hungary should attempt, as suggested, to employ Roumania to keep Bulgaria quiet in the event of an Austro-Serbian war, it is thought that such action would only enlarge the area of conflict and precipitate a general catastrophe.

Any intervention by Roumania would, it is argued, inevitably compel Russia to take drastic action on behalf of the Slavs in the Balkans.

Diplomats realize that the crisis demands immediate treatment and efforts to bring about an ambassadorial conference as quickly as possible have been renewed as it is thought this is the only means of bringing the necessary pressure into play to extinguish the incendiary tendencies of the extremists in the various countries concerned in the dispute. It is anticipated generally that Greece will ultimately adhere to the armistice, although in any case the practical consequences of her refusal to do so are not considered likely to be serious as she intends to participate in the peace negotiations to be opened in London next week.

GREEK PLÉNIPOTENTIARIES WILL BEGIN WORK IN LONDON ONE WEEK FROM FRIDAY

SOFIA, Dec. 4.—The peace plenipotentiaries representing Turkey, Bulgaria, Serbia and Montenegro will begin their work in London on Friday of next week.

GREEK PLÉNIPOTENTIARIES HAVE RESERVED DECISION FOR TWENTY-FOUR HOURS

SOFIA, Dec. 4.—It is officially announced that the Greek plenipotentiaries at Baghche will not reject the terms of the armistice, but have reserved their decision for 24 hours.

Even in the event of her declining to approve the armistice protocol Greece will participate in the peace negotiations in London.

BALKAN PEACE PACT SIGNED, BUT GREECE HOLDS ALLOF, SEEKING FURTHER CONCESSIONS

LONDON, Dec. 4.—The protocol arranging an armistice was signed last night by the Turkish and Bulgarian delegates, the latter representing also Serbia and Montenegro. Prior to this there had been a long sitting of the Turkish council of ministers to consider fresh proposals submitted by the allies.

Apparently the Greek delegate did not sign the protocol. At present nothing is definitely known on this point nor of the terms of the armistice as revised yesterday.

The refusal of Greece to sign the armistice is susceptible of different interpretations. In the first place, as a treaty armistice has been in existence for more than a week already, it is not impossible that the negotiations may have served to bring about an agreement on the general principles of the peace terms, such as would promise the speedy arrangement of a peace treaty when the conference meets, as is now expected. In this case the fact that Greece is standing out from the armistice protocol would not be of great importance.

In the second place, the Greek attention may mean a serious split among the allies, arising from jealousies concerning the possession of Saloniki and the insistence of the Greeks on the capitulation of Adrianople, Scutari and Janina.

Other points which may influence the situation are to be found in the fact that Turkey recently sought to conclude a separate treaty of peace with Greece, that Bulgaria apparently is not unwilling to enter into an alliance with Turkey and that the allies are desirous that Turkey shall enter the Balkan customs league.

There is a rumor in Sofia that a suggestion has been made to substitute Roumania for Greece in the Balkan league. It seems clear from the report that Bulgaria will ignore the Greek offer to land an army in Gallipoli peninsula and to send her fleet to attack the Dardanelles, that the relations between Greece and Bulgaria are greatly strained and that these signs of dissension among the allies leave the situation full of dangerous possibilities.

It is reported that France is trying to persuade Greece to adopt a less unyielding attitude. It is understood that financial pressure and the exhaustion of their forces had much to do with the willingness of Bulgaria and Serbia to conclude peace, and in this respect Greece, which secured her victories with less expense, is better able to continue hostilities.

TURKEY WILL REVICTUAL ALL ARMIES BY SEA—BLOCKADE TO BE RAISED

LONDON, Dec. 4.—The terms of the armistice between the Turkish and Bulgarian armies, as accepted by Bulgaria, provide that the truce shall continue during the whole period of the peace negotiations.

Turkey is to have the right of revictualing all her besieged fortresses, and all the detached bodies of Ottoman troops remaining in Macedonia and elsewhere, as well as the Turkish populations in the various parts of the theatre of war.

Turkey is to have the right of revictualing her fortresses, troops and population by way of the Adriatic and Ionian Seas, in addition to the ordinary available routes. The allied Balkan nations are to furnish safe conduct for the revictualing parties, and the Ottoman convoys are to be permitted to pass, if necessary, through the forces of the allies.

The blockade of the Aegean and Adriatic coasts of European Turkey is to be raised.

The terms are generally regarded as generous, but in view of the great difficulty which Turkey necessarily will find in revictualing her scattered forces, their practical effect probably will not be very important.

The fact that the negotiations for the armistice were regarded as an integral part of the peace negotiations also helped Turkey to secure more favorable terms than would have been granted under other circumstances.

PICTURE OF DESERTED BABY AT DAY NURSERY

By Woman Named Atwood Who Wrote Letter Stating Husband Threatened to Kill Her

A fine, healthy looking baby boy, about nine days old, was abandoned at the rooms of the Young Women's Christian Association last night. Late in the afternoon a rather young and attractive looking woman called at the Y. W. C. A. with the baby in her arms. She gave her name as Mrs. Atwood and her home as Providence, R. I.

Mrs. Atwood had a long talk with Miss Boutwell, the secretary, to whom she told a very pitiful story and asked permission for herself and baby to stay there during the night. Miss Boutwell, sympathizing with her, gave her permission to remain there last night.

At about 7 o'clock Mrs. Atwood left the building, saying that she was going to a nearby drug store to purchase some medicine for the baby. When the young lady failed to return, the police were immediately notified, and Sergeant McCoughrey was put on the case. The young woman left a suit case at the association and the officer examined this, finding several articles of clothing, but no marks whatever in it that would identify the owner. A description of the young woman was given to the police, but as yet she has not been found. She was about 23 years of age, 5 feet 4 inches in height, dark hair and eyes, very high color, wore a black suit and a black hat with a white feather.

The officials of the Y. W. C. A. were not very experienced in the handling of an infant and so they notified Agent Richardson at about 10 o'clock last night and he suggested taking the little one to the Day Nursery and placing it under the care of Miss Nelson. This was done and the child spent last night at the home.

This morning the secretary of the Y. W. C. A. received a letter from the mother of the child. The letter was postmarked Lowell and was mailed at 1:30 this morning. The young woman had disguised her handwriting in three different ways on the envelope. It was very crude writing. The following is the letter received:

To the Matron of the Y. W. C. A. I am in deep, deep trouble. I went out last night after I came to your rooms to tell you to my husband why I did not come clear through to Boston, and he told me I could go to the well, I won't say it; all I can say is my heart is broken. I dare not go to him now and I cannot go to work; he says he will kill me and baby, too, if I come anywhere near him. Now, I am going to beg some of my sisters in Christ to take my darling to your heart. I freely give him to the ones who can love and cherish him. God bless your good work; he is 7 days old, named Johnnie Albert, but you may name him to please your own heart. Well, I am heartbroken and can write no more, but in God's name be good to my darling.

Yours in Christ, Mrs. Atwood.

It can be easily seen that this was a deliberate ploy to leave the baby in the care of the Y. W. C. A. and was not done on the spur of the moment, as the young woman tries to indicate. There is very little hope of the woman returning to claim the child, and unless the police can locate her it will be a problem as to what to do with the baby. The impression from the letter is that the woman is mentally disturbed, although it is said that she appeared perfectly sane last night.

The case is in the hands of the police and Agent Richardson at the present time and when the latter was interviewed by a representative of the Sun, he said that this was one of the most difficult cases out of the many of a similar nature that have been called to his attention. The woman by no means is some distance from here and she left absolutely nothing behind her by which she might be identified.

The representative of the Sun and Agent Richardson visited the Day Nursery and examined the contents of the suit case left by the young woman. Nothing of any value was in it, but there were several articles of clothing and several instruments, and bottles of medicine. The clothing belonging to the baby appears to have been made in some institution as it is all machine-stitched, but there are no marks whatever on it and it is a state law that all garments that are marked with the name of the place. The opinion expressed by Agent Richardson is that the woman has just left some place of the kind where she has been confined during her illness.

The baby when seen was lying in a cot in a clean crib and was busily engaged in feeding from a bottle.

THE CAPE COD CANAL

Is About Three Eighths Completed

BEZZARDS BAY, Dec. 4.—The Cape Cod canal is three eighths completed in the estimation of the engineers who today transferred three big dredges from harbor work in Buzzard's Bay to points along the valley of the Monument river. The engineers refuse to predict the date of the opening of the canal, which is designed to be completed during the latter part of November after three years of hard labor devoted largely to blowing up boulders and gathering up the fragments.

The dredging of the railroad tracks along the canal, together with the opening of the new drawbridge over Monument river was accomplished last summer.

The dredge Federal has been set up in the valley between Bourne and Bourneboro, while the Governor Dredge is blowing out material in the Sagamore section, more than ten miles from the Cape Cod bay entrance of the canal. The first of the two breakwaters which are to protect the postmarked entrance of the canal is finished. It is 3000 feet in length and is marked by a gas buoy two miles up the bay toward Plymouth.

Excavating for the comfort station in Paige street is pretty slow work and there's a reason. If you haven't looked into the hole just glance at the picture and you will see what Contractor Patrick Conlon is up against. He encountered ledge in the very start and it has been a case of boring, picking and blasting since the beginning. Asked today when he expected to finish with the excavation, Mr. Conlon said: "I hope to finish excavating by a week from Saturday. That is only a guess, too, because we can never tell what we may hit up against."

JOHNSON WEDS AGAIN

Negro Pugilist Married
Lucille Cameron

CHICAGO, Ill., Dec. 4.—Jack Johnson, the gigantic negro pugilist, who is shortly to be prosecuted under the Mann white slave act, took to himself his second white wife yesterday when he was married to Miss Lucille Cameron, the girl for whose abduction he was arrested a few weeks ago.

Wife Dead Two Months

The marriage of the champion heavy weight fighter will not interfere with his prosecution, however, as the indictments under which he is to be tried concern his relations with a woman named Belle Schreiber.

Two months ago, Johnson's first white wife, formerly Mrs. Duryea of New York, committed suicide and was buried from the house which was the scene of the nuptials yesterday afternoon.

The ceremony was performed in the parlor of the home of Johnson's mother, 3244 South Wabash avenue, by Rev. Harry D. Roberts, the negro pastor of St. Mark's Episcopal church, while armed men, hired by Johnson, guarded the doors.

Before his marriage Johnson stated that he loved the girl and believed it his duty to marry her.

The blushing bride, whose mother had promised the federal authorities that she would take her daughter south, was garbed in a suit of black and white shepherd plaid, with a large picture hat trimmed with plumes, and a diamond ring for which Johnson paid $2500.

Groom's Suit Wonderful

The bridegroom was arrayed in a costume compared with which even the well known coat of many colors would resemble a faded gingham dress. His clothes were of a pattern which caused his huge figure to stand forth from the assembled guests like foot-lights. The suit was made up of large black and white checks, designed to match the costume of his bride, and diamonds scintillated on his necktie and fingers.

The white persons at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Sig Hart, Mr. and Mrs. S. H. D. Williams, Miss Laura Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Danielson, and a girl about 13 years old, whose name could not be learned and who attended Miss Cameron.

AN IMPORTANT HEARING

Affecting Institutions Will
be Held Tomorrow

A hearing on the proposition to tax the property of private charitable corporations and educational institutions will be held tomorrow morning at 10:30 o'clock at room 234, at the state house. The matter was being discussed at city hall this forenoon and a prominent citizen and big real estate owner who had just emerged from the treasurer's office joined in the discussion.

"The taxing of charitable corporations," he said, "is probably not as serious a matter as would be the taxing of private educational institutions. I may be a little selfish in this matter, and the only excuse I have to offer is, that self-preservation is the first law of nature."

"I remember reading an address delivered by Mayor O'Donnell at a banquet held before the pupils of St. Joseph's college some time last summer. I think in August, and in which he told of the number of pupils that were attending the parochial schools of that parish: 900 boys and 1500 girls. The total number of teachers was 43."

"The trouble occurred to me at that time, and I confess it had never occurred to me before, that the city of Lowell would be in a bad way if the parochial schools should close their doors and transfer their responsibility

PARCELS POST RATES AND ZONES

What Can be Mailed and the Cost Under the New Act and its Provisions

Much interest has been aroused and many inquiries have been made as to the new parcels post system which is to go into effect Jan. 1, 1913. As a rule, the public does not understand the system. At the present time any parcel weighing over four pounds is not allowed to be sent by mail, but when the new method comes into use parcels weighing as much as eleven pounds will be allowed to be sent through the mails in the United States. The rate on these heavier parcels will vary according to the distance they are to be sent. The present rate is one cent for every ounce. If the parcel does not weigh an ounce the same rate is charged. The new parcels post act, which was approved Aug. 24, gives the new rate as follows:

That hereafter fourth class mail matter shall embrace all other matter, including farm and factory products not now embraced by law in either first, second or third class, not exceeding eleven pounds in weight, not greater in size than twenty-two inches in length and girth combined, nor in form or kind likely to injure the person of any postal employee or damage the mail equipment or mail matter and not of a character perishable within a period reasonably required for transportation and delivery.

The part of the system which seems to arouse so much discussion is the matter of rates and this problem is the one that will cause the postmaster a great deal of worry and possibly trouble. The system includes the United States and all of its annex-

MURRAY IS ARRESTED

Is Charged With Threatening to Shoot

BOSTON, Dec. 4.—Charged with uttering several worthless checks and with threatening E. W. King, owner of a Norwood garage and operator of the automobile in which he was riding, a man giving his name as James H. Murray, 40 years old, of 79 Cottage street, Norwood, was arrested at the Revere House in this city last evening.

Murray is a tall, well-built, well-groomed man, and the police suspect that he is well known on the Pacific coast. He claims to be an artist and he had several paintings with him, which he regards his workmanship, indicated skill with the brush and the color tubes.

He had a loaded revolver in his possession when he was arrested. He went back to Norwood last evening in the same automobile in which he was arrested on Monday night, but Chief of Police James W. Laver, Petrolman Cornelius Murphy and P. W. King of Norwood went with him.

Murray was chased about Norwood and Boston all Monday night and yesterday by the police of both places. While Murray has been enjoying himself about Norwood the past few days, he has had for a companion, the police say, Vernon Cameron, 22 years old, of that town. By reason of his association with Murray, Cameron is also a prisoner. He was arrested when he returned to Norwood on Monday evening with King.

The Norwood police have a warrant for Murray, charging him with the larceny of goods by means of worthless checks. It is specifically charged that he visited Morris Menosky, a tailor in Norwood, and had a suit of clothes made for $40. On Monday Murray donned the suit at the tailor shop, approved it, and then, it is alleged, wrote a check for $60 on the Norwood National bank payable to Menosky, and signed by James H. Murray.

Murray, it is alleged, also visited T. J. Wiggin in Norwood and purchased a raincoat, a hat and a pair of shoes, giving Wiggin a check for $40. Menosky gave Murray a receipt for his suit of clothing and $20 in cash.

CONGREGATIONAL CLUB

Addressed by Rev. Dr. Vernon of Brookline

Bouts Will be Held Here Friday Evening

The 79th regular meeting of the Lowell Congregational club was held last night at the Highland Congregational church and a large number of people were present. Rev. A. W. Vernon, D. D. of the Harvard Congregational church of Brookline was the principal speaker of the meeting and he gave a very fine address, his subject being "The Lives of Washington and Lincoln, types of American character, teach us what it means to be an American better than in any other way."

He built his address around this theory and turned the attention of the audience to Washington and Lincoln in a manner that gave close personal insight into the two characters and their development. There were so alike in some things and so different in others.

His concluding summary added to his opening statement. He said that the American does not want to have the characteristics that differentiate these men but the characteristics in which they were alike.

Lincoln was a failure as a farm hand, as a stockkeeper and didn't even know elementary law well enough to defend himself in court. Lincoln had an infinite capacity for avoiding hard work. He began wrong. This was very unlike Washington. His early life was unimpeachable. While Washington was a simple, rich and successful man, Lincoln was a poor, struggling man in that country. He represented the aristocracy of America in form and declared that no man ever impressed his way and his will on the country more than George Washington, not even the last president. He traced Washington briefly by a characteristic incidents, through his career and then turned to Lincoln as the other type, so different from Washington.

BOXING COMES BACK

Bouts Will be Held Here Friday Evening

Eddie Flynn, who is to appear in the main bout at the Lowell Social and Athletic club on Friday evening, won his bout at the Melrose A. C. on Monday evening, and, according to the dispatch received in this city, he had the better of the go all the way. Flynn will meet Pat Rozzo at the meeting in this city and as the latter is also a very clever boy the members of the club are sure to witness a good bout. Flynn is in fine condition for the mill, and Rozzo too is training earnestly for the match. The bout is scheduled to go twelve rounds. In the semi-final Young Stone of Lowell will try conclusions with Young Raggo of New York. These are two crackerjacks and their offering is bound to be a hummer. They will entertain for eight rounds. If one is dropped in the meantime, the first preliminary Gardner Brooks will meet an unknown and he is well trained for the mill. He has been doing considerable road work and is ready for the tip of the bell. The members enjoy the work of this clever boy, and while he appeared in a number of bouts last year, all were victories. His managers will stack him up against stronger boys this season, and they are confident that he will be up with the leaders of his class before the season is over. In the opening bout Young Walters of Lowell will meet Young Welsh of Brockton. They will mix it for six rounds. The meeting will be held in Mathew hall and will start at 8 o'clock. Many of the members have expressed themselves in favor of Mattie Carney for referee, and President Gardner will propose his name at Friday night's meeting.

Perry Bible Class

A meeting of the Perry Bible class was held at the home of Mrs. A. F. Washburn, on 84 West Sixth street, yesterday afternoon. This meeting was the regular monthly one and following the business a general good time was had. Refreshments were served and humorous articles were read by many of those present. Selections were given on the graphophone by Mrs. Washburn and several selections were played on the organ by Miss Florence Marshall. The "Wayfaring Man of Grief" was then recited by Mrs. Lizzie Nichols. The next meeting of the class will be held the second Wednesday of January in the parlors of St. Paul's M. E. church.

Dedham Man Seeks to Annul Agreement Urges People to Do Xmas Shopping Early

SO AS TO PROVIDE FOR SECOND WIFE

Children Included in Bill—Had Given Divorced Woman Two-Thirds Interest

BOSTON, Dec. 4.—Arthur Gordon Weld of Dedham filed a bill in the supreme court yesterday against his divorced wife, Kate De-Rossett Woodbury Weld, of Dry Tortugas, and his children by her, Ronald Gordon Woodbury of Geneva, Alice Astute of Rome and his son by his second marriage, Christian W. Weld of Milwaukee, seeking to annul certain trust agreements so as to provide for his second wife as well as for his first wife.

In 1882 Arthur Gordon Weld executed an instrument under which his property was placed in trust, the income in the discretion of the trustee, not to exceed one-third thereof, to be paid to him during his life. At that time he was unmarried. Later in 1883 he married Kate Weld. In 1892 they were divorced. He made other agreements, under which he was to receive a certain portion of his income and his wife a larger portion during her life.

Under the last agreement she was to get two-thirds and he one-third, in consideration of his wife's renouncing all claims against him. He claims that she has not done so. He further claims that the agreement between husband and wife is void under the law of Wisconsin, the parties having lived in Milwaukee. After his divorce Mr. Weld married Fredrick Wahl and had a child by her named Christine W. Weld. In view of his second marriage and additional responsibilities arising therefrom and other circumstances affecting his earning capacity, he desires to have the trust agreements annulled and to have a new trust created, under which his divorced wife, his second wife and himself shall share fairly and equitably in the income. He asks the court to determine the rights of all parties.

HARRY MOORE
Clever Comedian With the Taylor Stock Company, Appearing at the Opera House

AMUSEMENT NOTES

Opera House

Every day this week will be bargain day at the Opera House where the Taylor Stock company is playing a week's engagement at popular prices. Good comedy dramas acted by a competent company and presented with special scenery and effects carried by the company presented for the small admission price of ten cents charged for orchestra seats is proving a potent attraction, judging from the large attendance yesterday afternoon to witness a performance of "The Blind Girl" and of "Regeneration" at the evening performance. This afternoon the ever popular drama, "The Colored Boy" will be the bill and tonight "Deserted at the Altar" will be presented. There will be a change of play every day and such plays as "The Yankee Doodle Detective," "The Old Clothes Man" and "Oliver Twist" are to be seen during the engagement.

NANCE O'NEIL

Supported by a company of merit that is pronounced by critics elsewhere to be a strong and evenly balanced one, the popular and talented actress, Nance O'Neil, comes to the Opera House for a two day engagement commencing Friday, Dec. 13th.

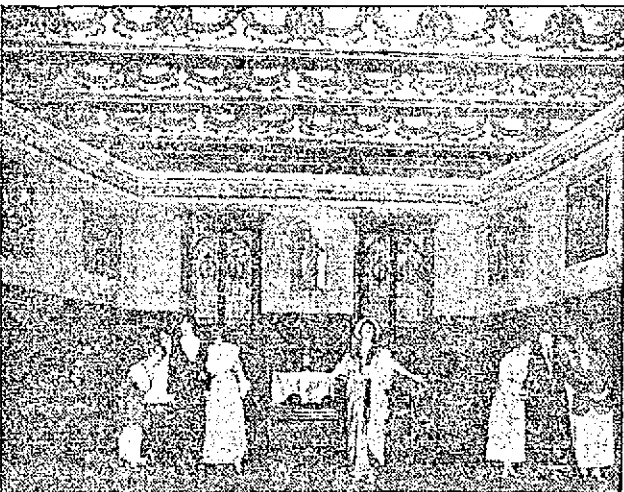

During her engagement here Miss O'Neil will be seen in two of her greatest successes, "Maggie" and "The Fires of St. John."

THE END OF THE BRIDGE

Miss Jessica Carbee, who is to portray the part of "Joan" in "The End of the Bridge," which is to appear at the Opera House, is an actress of compelling charm. Two years ago, Miss Carbee was introduced to Boston society at a tea given by her mother to numerous friends. It had been the hope of her parents that she would be attracted by the call of society, but Miss Carbee forewent all social pleasures to embrace a life-work of serious import and strenuous labor. She has appeared in several well known plays, but none of these has fitted her especially so much as "Joan" in "The End of the Bridge."

Kell's Theatre

The winning combination at the Kell's theatre this week consists of "Court By Girls," a splendid musical farce given with attention to every detail; "Hulligan and Skyles," an up-to-date musical comedy; "Romeo and Juliet," a sure novelty musical act; the Zerkas, up-to-date artists; Edgar Berger, a contortionist; and Coby, the singing cartoonist. It's the best show for many moons. Good seats obtainable for all performances. Box office phone 28.

A SCENE FROM THE CLEVER COMEDY, "COURT BY
"GIRLS" AT B. P. KELL'S THEATRE THIS WEEK

The Playhouse

In the staging of that wonderfully interesting detective play, "Sherlock Holmes," at the Playhouse this week, Kendal Weston once again demonstrates his unusual cleverness as a producer. In all of the five acts, his "characteristic touch is apparent and is doubt fully appreciated by the patrons of the theatre. Next week the company will appear in the bright comedy play, "Merely Mary Ann." A photo of one of the company to be given away on Monday night and Tuesday afternoon.

Merrimack Square

The bill at the Merrimack Square theatre this week is one of the best ever amalgamated and is playing as it should, to packed houses. The bill includes the star act and there are Kelly Shannon Co., in "The Little Doctor," Hardin, the world famous, the "Clint," Henry Curry and Verona, the girl with the million dollar voice. Miss Verona will give an operatic recital on Friday evening, when all are given an opportunity to enjoy a rare treat. The pictures are also good.

Academy of Music

For days the boys at the Academy of Music have been planning a lot of new things to work on the unsuspecting amateurs this evening and the chances are that never in the history of amateur performances was ever so much fun developed as will be found this evening. The manager has "doped" out a fine plan to entertain his patrons and, coupled with the feature amateur work, a great bill is on tap. The pictures also are good.

Salves Can't Cure Eczema

In regard to skin diseases, medical authorities are now agreed on this: Don't imprison the disease germs in your skin by the use of greasy salves, and thus encourage them to multiply. A true cure of all eruptions, diseases can be brought about only by using the healing agents in the form of a liquid. WASH THE GERMS OUT. A simple wash, a compound of Oil of Wintergreen, Thymol, and other ingredients as combined in the D. D. D. Prescription. This penetrates to the disease germs and destroys them, then soothes and heals the skin as nothing else has ever done. We have made fast friends of more than one family by recommending this D. D. D. Prescription to a skin sufferer here and there, and we want you to try it now on our positive no pay guarantee. A. W. Dows & Co., Drug-Gists.

STATE LAW VIOLATED

John Jacob Rogers Says New School Rules

ARE NOT CONSISTENT WITH THE CHARTER

Claims That All Meetings of the Board Should be Public—Question Referred to City Solicitor

Will the school board meet when it feels like it, behind closed doors or shall the board hold all its meetings in open? This is the question that the city solicitor has been called upon to answer. It arose at a meeting of the school board last night. John Jacob Rogers gave as his opinion that all meetings of the school board, in order to properly conform with the charter and the state law, should be public. Dr. Bagley contended that the board should have the privilege of meeting in executive session providing it does not vote away the city's money. The question was discussed at considerable length and was finally referred to the city solicitor.

The meeting was scheduled for 5 o'clock but the board did not get together until 9:30 o'clock. All members were present except Dr. O'Connor, who has been ill at his home for several days.

The resignation of Miss Blanche A. Cheney, teacher in the Bartlett school, was read and, on motion of Dr. Bagley, the resignation was accepted, and Miss Cheney was tendered the usual vote of thanks. Miss Cheney resigns to accept a position in the state normal school, having recently been appointed by the state board to succeed the present superintendent of schools, Hugh J. Molloy.

Miss Grace M. Thurber, of the Varnum school, asked for an extension of her leave of absence, and it was granted. Miss Clara A. Emmons, principal of the High and Pond street school, was granted leave of absence until February, 1913, and Miss Crowley was designated as acting principal.

A request for the hours at the New Moody school be allowed to remain as they are, opening at 8:45 and closing at 11:45, was granted.

Open Meeting Question

The chairman, having asked if there was any new business, Mr. Rogers suggested a change in section 3, chapter 1, of the new principles making the last sentence to read that all sessions of the school committee shall be public. The motion was not seconded.

Mr. Rogers, in explaining his motion, said that the charter was very explicit and that his motion was not only consistent with the charter but also with the state law. The section in the new rules to which Mr. Rogers objected reads as follows: "The sessions of the school committee as a rule, shall be open, but the committee may, at any time, by a majority vote, go into executive session."

Dr. Bagley said he did not second Mr. Rogers' motion because he did not believe it was the sense of the charter to prohibit the committee from going into executive session so long as the committee did not vote away any of the city's money. "For instance," said Dr. Bagley, "I do not see why the committee on teachers ought not to go into executive session when the committee wants to take matters over."

Mr. Rogers asked Truant Officer Thornton for a copy of the new charter in sec. 51, the following appears: "Three of its members (meaning the school committee) shall constitute a quorum, and its meetings shall be public."

"The charter does not say," said Dr. Bagley, "that all meetings of the sub-committees shall be public."

"That section," said Mr. Rogers, "deals with the meetings of the school committee. There is nothing in the charter or anywhere else, that will prevent us from discussing things outside of a meeting. But there is every reason for saying that all meetings of the school committee shall be public. I can see no possible objection to having that provision in the rules."

Dr. Bagley asked for a copy of the old rules of the school board, and it was produced.

Supt. Molloy looked over a copy of the old rules but did not find anything to the point.

"Those rules were drawn before the new charter was adopted, and as I read the new rule, it is in direct conflict with the state law," said Mr. Rogers.

Dr. Bagley said he would second Mr. Rogers' motion if Mr. Rogers would add to it a provision that the committee might go into an executive session of a meeting of one of the sub-committees.

Mr. Rogers: "Of course a school committee meeting may adjourn and then the sub-committee may confer; but what objection can you have to the language, 'All meetings of the school board shall be public?'"

Dr. Bagley: "A meeting of the committee on teachers constitutes the whole school committee." (Under the new rules all sub-committees are committees of the whole.)

Chairman Farrington: "Do I understand, Mr. Rogers, that the rule as we have it here, is a direct violation of the state law?"

Mr. Rogers: "I conceive it so. The city charter is a state law, and the putting in of the words, 'as a rule,' in my opinion constitutes a violation of the state law."

Mr. Farrington: "Would it not be well to ask the city solicitor whether it would be a violation of the state law?"

Mr. Rogers: "It seems to me there are some things on which we do not need to ask legal advice. If there were any conceivable objection to my amendment, I would not object; but I cannot see any ground for objection."

Mr. Farrington read from the rules of the Boston school committee, a provision similar to the one under dispute, in the new rules of the Lowell school committee.

Mr. Rogers: "That can be of no value unless we know what the Boston city charter says."

Mr. Farrington: "When such a representative board as the Boston school board deems it advisable to go into executive session, what objection can there be to our doing so?"

Mr. Rogers: "Simply because a state law says we shall not."

Mr. Farrington: "I do not believe that the state law does say that this is a violation. I am willing to vote here to have the opinion of the legal department of the city government."

Dr. Bagley moved that the matter be referred to the city solicitor for an opinion, and it was so voted. Adjourned.

Authorities in Constantinople Are Making Fight Against Cholera

CONSTANTINOPLE, Dec. 4.—The authorities of Constantinople are making a desperate fight to prevent the spread of cholera, which has already killed thousands. The city has been cleaned up better than it has been in years. The streets have been washed repeatedly, men playing the hose almost constantly, and tons of disinfectants have been used in an effort to destroy the germs.

GIRL CHARGES KIDNAPPING PLOT

Says That She Was Grabbed and Dragged Toward Auto at Fitchburg

FITCHBURG, Dec. 4.—Miss Stefania Giacobbi, aged 17, reported to the police last night that she was assaulted by two men, whom she alleges grabbed her while she was on her way to attend night school, and after placing something over her mouth to prevent her from screaming, dragged her to an automobile, which they had evidently engaged for the purpose of taking her away.

Miss Giacobbi told the police that two men who were seated in the automobile were attracted by her cries and that as they approached her assailants ran away.

She said she met the two men, who are also attendants at the night school, shortly after she left her home on Rockland street, and that she walked with them to a point on Allen street, where she claims they grabbed her and dragged her toward the automobile, which was standing near.

Miss Giacobbi told Lieut. Irving at the police station that the men in the automobile were not in any way involved in what she believes was a carefully arranged plan to kidnap her. She had several bruises on her face and hands which she said she received in the struggle with her assailants.

The two men who were in the automobile gave their names as Parker Higgins and Delos Livermore. They told the police that the auto was engaged early yesterday afternoon by one of the men and that he agreed to pay $20 for the use of the car.

Higgins said he was employed at one of the local garages and that one of the men who figured in the alleged assault told him he desired to have him take a wedding party to Boston last night and instructed him where to meet him with the car.

He said the first he knew of the assault was when he heard the screams of the girl. He said he saw two men apparently dragging the girl along the street toward the automobile, and when he heard her protest against the treatment she was receiving he went to her assistance with Livermore. The two men, he said, ran away when they saw them coming toward them.

Miss Giacobbi could not give the police any reason for the assault. She said the two men live in the same block on Rockland street with her and that she knew them only as attendants at the night school with her. The girl was on the verge of nervous prostration at the police station.

Warrants were issued last night for the arrest of Antonio Caterano and Rozario Mastro, who it is alleged, assaulted the girl. Another warrant was issued for Charles Caterano, who it is alleged, also took part in the assault.

WARRANTS WERE ISSUED LAST NIGHT FOR THE ARREST OF ANTONIO CATERANO AND ROZARIO MASTRO, WHO IT IS ALLEGED, ASSAULTED THE GIRL. ANOTHER WARRANT WAS ISSUED FOR CHARLES CATERANO, WHO IT IS ALLEGED, ALSO TOOK PART IN THE ASSAULT.

INDIAN TRIBES ARE SAFE WM. RANDOLPH HEARST

Boys' Expedition Comes To End in Lexington To Testify Before Campaign Committee

LEXINGTON, Dec. 4.—The work of Indian extermination is likely to be deferred for a while as a result of holding up here of three boys from Pawtucket, who admitted to the police that they were on their way west on a redskin campaign.

The trio, who attracted the attention of Patrolman Patrick Maguire, while they were passengers on a car from Boston to Lexington, were induced to go to police headquarters where they became guests for the night. The police, meanwhile communicating with friends of the young adventurers. Up to midnight nothing was heard from Pawtucket, but it is expected that information and instructions will be received in the morning.

The boys thus identified themselves: Herbert L. Anderson, 13 years old, father dead, lives with stepfather, Fred L. Gladus, 30 Hamilton street; Antonio Belcorral, 10 years old, son of Mrs. Margaret McManus, 122 High street, Pawtucket.

The boys, who were fairly well dressed, though not one of them had an overcoat, had a suit case between them, and it contained a horseblanket, which they said was to be used for camping. They had $8 in cash, but would not say how they came by so much wealth.

They are said to have told the police that they left Pawtucket Monday, went to Boston by train, and stayed over night in that city. From there they determined to start for the plains and the bad lands of the west. They made the first stage of their perilous journey in a Lexington car and under pressure, abandoned their unthought upon the wily Kickapoo and the fiery Sioux.

THINK HICKEY CAN TELL MORE

Holding Back as to Crimes Police Say—Some Boy Mysteries That Are to be Cleared Up

BUFFALO, Dec. 4.—The authorities are convinced that J. Frank Hickey, self-confessed murderer, has not yet told all in regard to his killings. Letters are being in on Chief Gibson of Lackawanna, Chief Hogan and other officials in an effort to fasten several other murders of boys, kidnappings and numerous assaults on the man who has been smoking cigars and reading the Bible in a separate cell in the county jail.

There are some of the things that it is thought Hickey may be able to explain. The disappearance on April 16, 1910, of Edward P. Adams, 19 years old, of Kane, Pa., standing on Oct. 6, 1910, of Philip Macdonald, 9 years old, of Bridgeport, Conn., murder of James Lawrence Ford, aged 14, on Dec. 12, 1909, in Pittsburgh; disappearance in August, 1911, of the 15-year-old son of Gibson K. McMiller of Concord, Mass.; murder of another boy and kidnapping of another in Reading, Pa., in April, 1902; murder of William Mather, aged 12, on Feb. 23, 1912, in North Providence, R. I.; murder of Eddie Gardner, a Wilmington, Del. boy, some years ago, and the death of Freddie McKenna, 8 years old, in Detroit, March 11, 1907.

It is very probable that the letters and evidence in these cases will be handed over to Atty. Daniel V. Murphy, who is to conduct the defense of Hickey, to see if he can induce the man to confess to any of these crimes for which he might be responsible.

A 14-year-old boy of East Aurora was brought into Buffalo yesterday morning by Deputy Sheriff Christopher Schenker and was taken to the jail to see if he could identify Hickey as the man who attempted to molest him a couple of years ago. The boy, whose name could not be learned, said that he had never seen Hickey.

Hickey, questioned, denied all knowledge of the cases of William Mather and Philip Matson.

HELPED HICKEY

Having No Suspicion of His Character, Rescue Workers Aided Him to Get to New York

BOSTON, Dec. 4.—J. Frank Hickey, the confessed murderer of boys, was helped out of Boston to New York by persons highly prominent in the cause of temperance and rescue work in this city. Mrs. Katherine L. Stevenson, president of the Massachusetts Women's Temperance Union, and David Reid, founder and superintendent of the Hope Mission for Women, 1766 Washington street.

Mrs. Stevenson talked with him twice on Monday, Nov. 11, a little more than three weeks ago, and gave him

$3 towards paying his fare to New York, while Mr. Reid went with him to the South station and saw him off on the New York train. Neither had the slightest suspicion that he was a bad man, but thought him only an unfortunate victim of drink.

Hickey, according to Mrs. Stevenson's story, came to the rooms of the W. C. T. U. at 10 o'clock Monday morning, Nov. 11. He told Mrs. Stevenson that he had been on a drunk for ten days, but that he wanted to be himself right with God.

He told Mrs. Stevenson that he wanted to go to the sanitarium at Whitings, N. J., near Toms River, where later he was arrested, and asked for his fare to New York, saying that a missionary friend in that city would help him the rest of the way.

Accustomed to that class of customers, Mrs. Stevenson was at first somewhat suspicious, but Hickey showed her a letter from Mrs. Deane, a superintendent of the Whitings Sanitarium, with whom she is well acquainted, to the effect that Hickey had made himself so handy in different kinds of work that he was welcome to come there again if occasion arose.

For an hour, Mrs. Stevenson says, Hickey talked with her alone, in her office. She was impressed with his gentlemanly bearing, his air of refinement and his excellent English, and finally gave him 15 cents for breakfast and told him to call again at 2 o'clock in the afternoon.

Later he asked Mr. Reid to come over, and he was there when at 2 o'clock Hickey returned. Before them, Mrs. Stevenson went down on her knees and prayed to God for forgiveness and guidance, promising with apparent sincerity, to do better, change his manner of life and become more of a Christian.

Mrs. Stevenson finally gave him $3, taking his note for the money, and Mr. Reid went with him to the South station and saw that he bought his ticket and started off on the train. He shook Mr. Reid's hand warmly and said goodbye. His last words were, "I shall pray to God to make me stronger."

Mrs. Stevenson subsequently received a letter from Hickey, she says, brief but to the point, expressing thanks for the help given him and repeating his pledges to improve his life. This letter and the previous note of head she destroyed, but the envelope she happened to recover, and when reproductions of Hickey's postcards were published she noticed that the handwriting was the same. That was the time she decided that the letters were from the man of his visit. She has since referred all her information in the case to the district attorney.

"Hickey," Mrs. Stevenson says, "looked anything but a criminal. I thought his face rather strong instead of weak. He had a good chin and a prominent nose like freshet. Only in the quiver of his eyes did he betray any weakness. I think the man a

The Champaign boy, in company with Alphonse Rene and Joseph Dalgle, left his home at 2 Pearl avenue on the afternoon of the day he dropped out of sight for Derryfield park. The boys had been separated, Champaign going to the eastward. Champaign has not been seen since.

BOSTON, Dec. 4.—Eight mayors were successful in seeking re-election. They were Frank O. Hardy, citizen, in Fitchburg; Edwin J. Moulton (no designation) in Haverhill; John J. White, republican, in Holyoke; J. Henry Gleason, republican, in Marlboro; Charles S. Ashley (no designation), in New Bedford; William H. Falker, republican, in Northampton; Eugene R. Stone, republican, in Quincy; and Patrick J. Duane, democrat, in Waltham. Mayor Edward H. Lethbrun, democrat, of Springfield, who sought re-election for a third term, lost to his republican opponent, John A. Denison.

The referendum granting firemen one day off in five was carried in all the cities except Northampton. In that city, there was considerable interest in the majority struggle in Haverhill, where James F. Carey, the socialist candidate for mayor in the November election, lost to the present Mayor Edwin H. Moulton.

No upsets in the license vote occurred in the 14 Massachusetts cities which held elections yesterday. In all the cities, except Taunton, mayors were elected, one of the principal fights being in New Bedford, where Charles S. Ashley was re-elected for his 16th term.

In the cities where national party lines prevailed, six republicans were successful and two democrats. Progressives entered the fight in three of the cities, Fitchburg, Quincy and Waltham, where they elected two councilmen at-large.

The cities remaining in the non-partisan league were Quincy and Waltham, while Fall River, Fitchburg, Gloucester, Haverhill, Holyoke, Marlboro, New Bedford, Northampton, Pittsfield and Springfield went for license by practically the same majorities as last year. In Brockton and Taunton, where the polls did not close until 8 o'clock, the result was not known until a late hour.

10,000 Women Vote

The fight for school commitment in Fall River furnished the spectacular feature of the campaign, 10,000 women casting their votes, the fight overshadowing the other city contests. The democrats won two of the three positions.

MAYOR BOYLE BEATEN

NEWPORT, R. I., Dec. 4.—Mayor Patrick J. Boyle, serving his 14th year as mayor and twice defeated, was beaten again in the city election yesterday by William MacLeod, a young lawyer. Efforts of the Law Enforcement league of Newport unquestionably aided in electing Mr. MacLeod, whose majority was 433. The total vote was MacLeod, 2310; Boyle, 1907.

The total vote cast yesterday was 4313, with 5523 names on the voting lists. Last year Boyle secured a plurality of 432, running against two other candidates.

The taxpayers voted for two playgrounds and for improving the public beach. No party affiliations are permitted in the city election under the present charter.

Late last night hundreds of supporters of the mayor-elect formed a parade and escorted Mr. MacLeod about the city. Mrs. John Nicholas Brown, president of the Civic league, with other women, was in line, occupying a large touring car.

Alderman William Shepley was defeated. Aldermen Thomas C. Albino, Jr., Frank T. Hughes and John F. Leddy were re-elected. Michael P. Kelly and Joseph Kirby were elected to the board of aldermen as new members.

WATER POLO POPULAR

Although Several Clubs Have Placed Ban on it

American water polo is dying hard. In spite of the fact that the A. A. U. and several clubs have placed the ban on it, players in every section have pronounced in favor of its retention, and the colleges have refused to join in the movement against it. For, although the colleges don't exactly play the "American game," they play a game so closely resembling it that there is very little difference in the two.

The efforts of the advocates of the English game, or soccer, to have their chosen game adopted by the A. A. U. have given rise to the rumor that several eastern colleges would give their support and that an attempt would be made to introduce the necessary changes in the intercollegiate tournaments.

A canvass of the various universities holding memberships in the Intercollegiate Swimming association disclosed the fact that with one or two exceptions the college swimmers are opposed to any interference with the style of play that they have been using successfully. Nor can this be wondered at, for the college game has proved popular with the players and the public, and the managers contend that they cannot draw crowds if a water polo game is not scheduled. The trouble experienced in former years with college water polo, owing to incompetent referees and the rough work permitted, has been largely eliminated, thanks to the appointment of competent referees, so that today the college game is on a sounder footing than ever.

A numerous and endless variety of suggestions has been made for the betterment of the American game of water polo, some of which hold promise of improving matters, but the one most likely to check the evils of the game without altering the nature of it is the suggestion of an eastern expert that the goal section be enlarged so that indiscriminate tackling be allowed within eight feet of the goal instead of four feet and the absolute forbidding of tackling outside of this small area.

Those familiar with the game know that in the scrimmage under the goal there is seldom, if ever, an attempt made to disable an opponent. The attacking forwards are too eager to score to think of anything else but the goal, and the defending backs are too anxious to protect their goal to devote their time to settling personal grievances. As a result the fight is always hard and strenuous, but clean.

It is usually out in the pool that objectionable tactics are witnessed. Often two backs will pass on an incoming forward, and while one engages him the other will slip up behind him and throttle him with a strangle hold until nearly unconscious. The victim is left defenseless. For the moment he lets go of the ball it is tossed to another part of the tank, and the referee's attention shifts with it. Then the man who is punishing him can do so with impunity, and accidents often happen.

Another rule that would accomplish a great amount of good would be that of ordering that as soon as a man, or women, has touched the ball, he or she must pass the ball under penalty of a foul. This would open the game and make it more attractive and still allow it to retain the hand to hand encounters. It would also afford a pretty exhibition of dodging and passing the ball, ending always in a hard battle for the goal.

An objection has been raised by a few players against the proposed amendment on the ground that it would give the scoring forwards a big advantage and place a handicap on the defense men. This has yet to be proved. When a player carrying the ball is obliged to pass at the touch it will not only make possession of the ball insecure, but prevent an attacking trio from deciding on any given formation until within the goal section, when it is pretty hard to pass. But even if such a change would militate against the backs, what of it? The opportunity would be equal for both sides, and a match with plenty of scoring is less trying on the players, who have a few minutes' rest after each half, and is decidedly more interesting to the spectators.

AT ST. JEAN BAPTISTE CHURCH

Mass Will be Celebrated in Basement Dec. 15th—Contractor Now Cleaning Debris

Work of demolishing the interior of St. Jean Baptiste church, which was gutted by fire a couple of weeks ago, was started yesterday and at the present time considerable work has been done. It is very probable that mass will be celebrated in the lower church next Sunday, or at least a week from Sunday.

Contractor J. B. Morin had at first been asked to take down the trusses in the main church and also to clean the building of the debris, but later when the contract for the plans and general construction of the edifice was awarded to Architect Henry J. Rourke, Contractor William Draper was given the contract to tear down the ceiling in the lower church and also to clear the upper part of the building, as well as to build a temporary roof over the floor of the main part of the church, and yesterday a large shift of men with derricks and saws as for men was set to work.

The plaster ceiling in the lower church was torn down rapidly and it is expected this part of the work will be finished this evening. Some time before Friday the contracts for the metal ceiling and the electrical work will be awarded, as already figures have been submitted. The electrical work in the lower church will be completed in a short time, while the metal ceiling will not be completely installed for at least six weeks. However, as soon as the temporary roof is set over the second floor and all danger of accidents has been removed, services will be held in the basement. The sanctuary and sacristy in the lower part of the church, which were damaged considerably by the flames, will be temporarily repaired.

The cleaning in the upper part of the edifice is progressing rapidly and already the main aisle has been cleared of the debris. A large number of men are employed on the job. They with the use of shovels and large baskets and the debris is dumped into a wagon and transported to the Allen street dump. The large organ will soon be taken down and if it is possible to repair it the work will be done at once, while on the other hand if this is not practicable a new one will be installed. The insurance companies have nearly all settled with the Oblate Fathers, and it will not be very long before the beautiful St. Jean Baptiste church will again be opened for worship.

SENTENCE DEFERRED

In Case of Ex-Chamberlain Hyde

NEW YORK, Dec. 4.—Sentence upon Charles H. Hyde, former city chamberlain, convicted of bribery in connection with the misuse of city funds, was deferred today when Justice Goff announced that he would take under consideration for one week the plea of his attorney, for an arrest of judgment. In the meantime an investigation will be made by the special "chain line" grand jury under orders from Justice Goff of the charges that Hyde received undue favors while a prisoner in the toms and the allegation that employees of the prison had knowledge of evidence tending to show the convicted man's innocence.

Before Hyde was arraigned William J. Wright, deputy commissioner of corrections, who is alleged to have said that he had shown favors to Hyde because he believed in his innocence, was examined by Justice Goff. Wright denied that he had any new evidence favorable to Hyde, but was told by the court that he must appear before the grand jury and testify.

Application by Hyde's counsel that his client be admitted to bail was refused by the court and Hyde was remanded to the toms until sentence is passed.

The party returned to this city this afternoon after having spent a very enjoyable day.

When the car reached Baldwin street the man did not wait for it to come to a standstill but stepped off. He was taken into the sanitarium where he received treatment.

INTEGRITY

[Reprinted from the Boston Post, Dec. 3]

In response to a request for his opinion on the report of the New Hampshire Public Service Commission, which was made public earlier in the day, President Charles S. Mellen said:

"I have not had an opportunity to read the very voluminous report just submitted by the commission, and so I am not prepared to discuss the recommendations of the commission."

"I have noticed, however, certain things in the report which are exceedingly gratifying, especially at this time, when there seems to be a renewal of the statements that the New Haven has not dealt fairly with the Boston & Maine, and a general agitation started against the New England railroad lines, which by false charges against the integrity of the management might become demoralizing to the railroad organization and harmful to the entire transportation and business interests of New England."

"It should be remembered that the Public Service Commission of New Hampshire has been investigating all matters relating to the Boston & Maine railroad and its control by the New Haven railroad for more than a year and has probed into every feature of railroad management."

"On the question of the effect of New Haven control the following statements are interesting:

Particular attention was devoted to the division of joint rates enjoyed by the Boston & Maine railroad and to the gateways of exchange on joint business with other carriers, and especially with the New Haven company, to determine whether full advantage and fair treatment was being obtained by the Boston & Maine railroad in those cases where it had the right to protect its long haul business and revenues."

The result of these investigations, it should be conceded, indicates that the acts of the New Haven company, since its dominant control, offer little ground for criticism in this particular, as it appears that where new joint rates have been established the basis of division is substantially that of a strict mileage proportion, or, where changes in the routes have been inaugurated between the two systems, resulting in a shorter haul for the Boston & Maine, that the old divisions have been continued through the new gateways of interchange, and the Boston & Maine has suffered no diminution of revenues."

"In the light of charges which are being loosely made as to coal contracts and other purchases, the following statement is particularly significant:

Special attention was given by the commission to the contracts for coal supply, and although it developed there was a close interlocking relation between those interested in the Virginia Iron, Coal & Coke Company, the Keystone Coal Company and the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad or its officers, and that these two coal companies together held contracts for 1,080,000 tons of the 1,500,000 tons needed to supply the Boston & Maine railroad's annual requirements, it appeared from the best outside information obtainable from those experienced in coal business that both the terms and prices were advantageous and favorable to the railroad company."

"The report further continues: 'In general, however, it was found that all efforts by those in immediate control of purchases were being bent to secure the best and most economical results, and especially is this true at the present time.'"

FEDERAL GRAND JURY

Continues Investigation in Alleged Illegal Traffic Agreement Between N. Y., N. H. & R. and the Grand Trunk

NEW YORK, Dec. 4.—The federal grand jury investigation into the alleged illegal traffic agreement between the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad and the Grand Trunk railroad to determine whether the Sherman anti-trust law has been violated was continued here today. Supplying the testimony of R. H. Fitzhugh, vice president of the Grand Trunk, the only witness who testified yesterday, W. C. Bliss, chairman of the public utility committee of Rhode Island, and Vice President Murdoch of the Southern New England railroad were among the witnesses. Who it was expected would be called today by Assistant Attorney General Adkins, who is in charge of the investigation. Mr. Fitzhugh, however, was recalled as the first witness. It is believed that his testimony had to do with the cessation of the construction work on the New England Southern, the Grand Trunk line which was to connect Providence with the Vermont Central, another Grand Trunk subsidiary.

RESTORE THE WHIPPING POST

Governor Baldwin of Connecticut Says it Should be Used for Certain Criminals

RICHMOND, Va., Dec. 4.—Restoration of the whipping post for certain classes of criminals and sterilization for others were advocated by Gov. Simon E. Baldwin of Connecticut yesterday in an address before the fifth annual governors' conference in session here.

Gov. Baldwin's address followed an address by Gov. Shafroth of Colorado in which Gov. Shafroth advocated lenient but certain punishment to criminals and cited his own state as an example where this system had worked well.

Neither Gov. Foss of Massachusetts nor Gov. Blaisdell of Maine, the other New England executives present, took part in the discussion.

Gov. Baldwin's speech in discussing what he termed the two schools of modern penology, Gov. Baldwin said:

"Modern penology, in both schools, has accepted imprisonment as the main method of punishment. The old plan had been to use capital punishment very freely; bodily mutilation occasionally; hanging often. "A prison, do what you will, is a cheerless place, and its associations are undesirable. But for certain classes of offenders, it hardly fits the case. "If a man, for example, is a burglar who uses torture to compel his victims to produce their valuables, ought to suffer a certain punishment which he may know beforehand. "It seems to me that the prospect of a whipping—of course, a moderate and private one—would often best answer that purpose. I have myself, when serving on the bench, more than once sentenced to jail where it would, I think, have been of more good to the interests of public justice to inflict a punishment shorter in duration and sharper in pain.

"There are two objections, and really but two objections, to substituting the ancient penalty of capital punishment as cruel, and its effect is to lower a human life, beyond recovery. "There is a crime still, however, that to which I have alluded, that a man can commit toward the weaker sex. It is when he hurls a child into a ditch. If every such offender were also smartly whipped I believe there would soon be fewer of them."

Arguments on lynchings Gov. Donaghy of Arkansas declared for a severe penalty for lynchings and said no punishment except death would deter the murderer.

"Why, it has come to the pass," he declared, "when a man is certain of punishment at the gallows that he will not shoot a horse, but will shoot a man. He is able to go scot-free if he commits a murder."

A jury court of appeal should be abolished, in the opinion of Gov. Elbert H. Riddle of Minnesota. The jury system, he thought, was at the root of the evil of frequent miscarriage of justice. Nowadays, he declared, a man could plead guilty to many varieties of insanity and escape the consequences of his crime.

In the name of the state of South Carolina, however, Gov. Blease served notice to the conference that lynchings of negro assassins of white women in his state would go unpunished, that Blease also warmly defended his use of the pardoning power, declaring that in 22 months he had pardoned or paroled approximately 400 persons, and that he hoped the number at the end of the second term would be 800.

"I have said all over the state of South Carolina, and I say it again now," he declared, "that I will never order the militia to shoot down their neighbors and protect a black brute who commits the nameless crime against a white woman. They will neither need nor receive a trial."

Gov. Blease justified the use he had made of his pardoning power, he said, by conditions he had found in penal institutions in the state.

Only "Real" Governor Gov. Gilchrist of Florida is the only "real governor" in the Union. He said so himself today.

"If there is any man here who is the real governor of his state, whose wife does not rule instead," announced Mayor Alsop of Richmond, in welcoming delegates to the conference, "I call on him to stand up and be counted."

Gov. Gilchrist, amid cheers and laughter, arose and was counted alone. He is unmarried.

Gov. Mann also welcomed the governors, and plans were begun to make the conference a permanent organization.

A letter was read from President-elect Wilson regretting his inability to attend.

HE SPOKE TOO LATE

Alderman Brown Wanted Voting Extended

The municipal council held two meetings yesterday, one in the afternoon and one in the evening. A full report of the afternoon meeting appeared in The Sun last evening. The meeting last night did not amount to very much. It was held for the purpose of discussing the proposition to extend the hours for voting on election day, the matter having been brought up at the afternoon meeting by Alderman Brown, who said that many people had asked him to do what he could to have the hours extended. The question was discussed at considerable length and while no one doubted the council's authority to extend the hours for voting, the law as published in The Sun yesterday, was very plain. The law says that in order to change or extend the hours for voting, seven days at least must elapse between the taking of action calling voters together and the actual holding of the election, which means that such action would have to be advertised seven days in advance. If the council had taken the matter up one day earlier it could have been put through, but just now it was too late to cover seven full days between now and election. This was the only business before the meeting and the council adjourned to Wednesday, Dec. 11, at 2 p. m.

VIRTUOLO RECITAL

Pleased Guests of Mr. C. A. Gallagher at Rooms of Hallett & Davis Piano Co. Last Night

A very appreciative gathering of invited guests listened to a recital of well selected numbers by a Virtuoso Player-piano last night in the rooms of the Lowell branch of the Hallett & Davis Piano Co. The program included some of the most difficult compositions of well known masters.

This delightful recital was arranged by Mr. C. A. Gallagher, who only recently came to this city to take the position of manager of the local concern of the firm, and he was assisted by Mr. George E. Dwyer, who besides being the salesman and demonstrator of the company here, is well known in Lowell musical circles. Mr. Gallagher came directly from the factory in Boston, where he has been located since 1835, and he comes to this city with a broad and valuable experience to take charge of an extensive field.

The entertainment of last evening represents the inauguration of the new method of the Hallett & Davis company of distributing pianos directly from the factory to the home, by means of a district office in preference to a large and expensive warehouse. Mr. Gallagher is determined to make a success of the project and has started out remarkably well. Among those present last night were several well known musicians of this city and they were highly pleased with the recital. The following program was beautifully rendered:

"Kaiser Fideles," march..... Sousa
a—Humoresque..... Dvorak
b—Al Fresco..... Herbert
Selection, "Pink Lady"..... Curly
"Silver Chords Among the Gold."
Transcription of concert
a—Punchinello..... Herbert
b—Serenata..... Moszkowski
"Cavaleria Rusticana"..... Mascagni
"Krackerjack."
Medley of Popular Songs
"Waiting for the Robert E. Lee,"
March medley

CHELMSFORD

Those who took a great interest in the Progressive party at the time of the presidential election are now forming a Progressive club in I. O. O. F. hall, Chelmsford. They met Monday evening in the hall for the purpose of forming the club and despite the disagreeable weather about twenty-five were present. Wm. H. Hall was chosen the chairman of the meeting and Joseph E. Warren the secretary. Several of those present addressed the meeting and endorsed the Progressive party and movement. Chairman Hall then read a letter from Matthew Hale which requested them to support the party at the primaries January 25, of the act to provide for the preferential vote for United States senator. B. E. Martin then proposed the club and all of the members of it should all give their support. It was voted then that the organization be known as the Chelmsford Progressive club.

Had Grange Badge

ATHOL, Dec. 4.—Officer C. H. Phelps arrested a man on a charge of drunkenness in Frezique square last night, who gave his name as Frank Adams. When searched it was discovered that he wore three coats, three hats and two pairs of trousers. On his person were found a four-pound dressed chicken, three onions, a Boxford orange ladder, several jackknives, three or four handkerchiefs and many other things.

The All Time Smoke—Tuxedo

WILLIAM F. MURRAY

Congressman William F. Murray of Boston, Mass., who, in addition to other distinctions, is the youngest member of Congress, says:

"In my recent campaign for Congress, I had occasion to speak many times nightly. I found that Tuxedo tobacco and a good pipe have a very soothing effect on the vocal chords after a hard speaking tour."

C. D. WILLIAMS

C. D. Williams, the illustrator, whose color work has caused him an international reputation, says:

"When designing the composition of a picture, I find it easier to concentrate my attention on the work if I smoke Tuxedo. It is a wonderfully sweet, cool smoke in my meerschaum."

RICHARD HENRY LITTLE

Richard Henry Little, the distinguished war correspondent, author and humorist, says:

"I have found Tuxedo a faithful companion in the field and in the camp."

WEAVERS' STRIKE

They Claim They Are Not Paid as Well as Other Employees of American Woolen Co.

FITZBURGH, Dec. 4.—Being unable to reach an agreement, 70 weavers employed at the Arden mill, which is controlled by the American Woolen company, went out yesterday afternoon on strike. The weavers held a conference a few days ago with the superintendent, George Goswell, and asked for an increase of about 15 per cent. The superintendent asked the weavers for further time to consider the proposition and they gave him until yesterday to give his answer. Yesterday afternoon, when a committee of the weavers waited on him, he informed it that he did not believe he could grant the increase asked for at this time.

The weavers returned to their homes yesterday afternoon and worked for a short period.

A representative of the weavers claimed last night that they were being paid a lower rate of wages than that paid to other weavers in the employ of the American Woolen company for the same grade of work.

The strikers met late yesterday afternoon in one of the halls of the Central Labor union and discussed the question of the strike.

The officials at the mill will make an effort, it is said, to fill the places of the strikers. The strikers are made up of about 40 girls and the remainder are men and boys.

Nothing ever cleansed the blood, the bowels and the liver like Olive Tablets.

Olive Tablets do all that calomel does and just as effectively, but their action is gentle and safe instead of severe and irritating.

No one who takes Olive Tablets is ever cursed with "a dark brown taste," a bad breath, a dull, listless, "no good" feeling, constipation, a torpid liver, bad disposition or pimply face.

Olive Tablets are made of pure vegetable compounds mixed with olive oil. Dr. Edwards spent years among patients afflicted with liver and bowel complaints, and Olive Tablets are the immensely effective result.

Try them. Take one nightly for a week. Then look at yourself in the glass and see how you feel. 10c and 25c per box.

BURSTING OF A VALVE

Caused Excitement at Revere Theatre

CRY OF FIRE STARTED A GENERAL RUSH

Alarm Sounded and Fire Apparatus Responded—Steam Was Shut Off and Performance Resumed

REVERE, Dec. 4.—The bursting of a small valve on a steam radiator in the gallery of the Revere theatre at Revere beach last night precipitated something of a panic among the 450 men, women and children who comprised the audience, but before a general stampede could be begun after some one had shouted "Fire!" cooler heads succeeded in allaying the fears of the terrified ones and restored them to their senses.

It was shortly after the evening performance had begun that the valve burst with a resounding report. In an instant a jet of steam shot forth. Those nearest the damaged heater became uneasy. Those seated further away from the radiator saw the clouds of vapor rising and some one shouted "Fire!"

In an instant the audience was in an uproar. Men and women jumped to their feet and a general rush was started for the exits. Those in the gallery stormed the doors, and it was said that somebody, in attempting to calm the excited patrons, closed the doors. This only added to the excitement of those in the gallery.

Down stairs on the floor the more timid insisted upon leaving the theatre, notwithstanding that all the lights were immediately turned on. With the first rush for the open, some misguided individual sounded an alarm from box 26 and in a few moments the fire apparatus, clattering along the boulevard, added to the excitement.

Before further damage was done, the incipient panic was prevented, however, and the 75 persons who had left the theatre returned, the steam was shut off in the damaged radiator, the fire apparatus returned to quarters and the performance was resumed.

PIERCE BLAZE IN ATTIC

Firemen Experienced a Difficult Time

A house located on Flood's alley, off Market street, belonging to the A. F. Jewett estate, caught fire this morning shortly after nine o'clock and an alarm was sent in from box 125. When the firemen arrived on the scene, the upper part of the building was a mass of flames which threatened to spread to other structures. In spite of the fact that several lines of hose were put immediately into action, the burning quickly got more than an hour when it was finally gotten under control. The blaze was said to have originated in the attic where an old mattress and other articles were kept and it is thought to have started from spontaneous combustion. It had plenty of material to consume and gained headway until it finally broke forth from the roof. All this took place in very short order and the fire department was confronted by a difficult and dangerous proposition upon its arrival. The damage was considerable, and was estimated by Mr. Jewett at about $500 which he said was covered by insurance.

To Clean Woolen Garments
A stiff brush dipped in gasoline, then in cornmeal, and rubbed over any soiled worsted garment will clean and freshen it. If a sweater is very much soiled first shake out all the dust, then drop it into slightly warm water and stir round. Use clean, warm soapy water with a teaspoonful of borax and gently sponge up and down, and if there are any greasy spots rub soap on the hands and manipulate the sweater, but do not allow any soap to come in contact with the sweater. Rinse in three changes of warm water and add a few drops of bluing to the final water. Now press out, place the sweater in a large pillowcase and suspend the four corners by large pins over a tub for three days. Then spread on a sheet in the sunline for a day or two until dry. This method is followed by expert cleaners.

To Preserve a Clear Whiteness in silk and woolen underwear it must not be washed in hot water or with other garments and must be rinsed in warm water and dried indoors. The goods should not be sprinkled for ironing. A disregard of these rules will result in yellowing the goods and there is no known method of restoring the lost whiteness. Silk and wool garments will not shrink much if these rules are followed.

L. HEALEY IS FOUND

Missing Man Went to Rindge, N. H.

LOCAL POLICE RECEIVED NOTICE OF IDENTIFICATION
It is supposed that he became demented and wandered away. Though he had no mental trouble. The local police authorities last night received a telegram from the police of Rindge, N. H., to the effect that Lawrence Healey, who disappeared from Lowell a few days ago, had wandered there and that they have him in custody. Immediate steps will be taken to have him return. The police say that the man must have become demented. Healey, whose home is at 11 Marion street, this city, has been missing since Sunday. He was employed as a laborer in the Prescott mill and on Sunday he left the house ostensibly to go to work there. He failed to return and up to last night nothing had been seen or heard from him. It was said that he refused no indications of any illness or mental trouble but on the contrary seemed cheerful as he left home. He did, however, suffer last winter from nervousness and other forms of mental trouble and appeared to worry considerably over that.

AFFORDS GREAT FUN

The Game of Fishes is Very Lively

A lively game is this one that will afford heaps of fun for a club meet. To play it you have a rod and line with a cork attached at one end. Now select a box or girl for fisherman. The fisherman should have a notebook unless he can reel off his questions as easily as he can handle his rod. The fisherman should stand in the middle of the room with all the players seated around him. He will start a question by asking "What kind of fish have you in your line?" It is a fish which has a part of a roadway for its name. The third fish will be the "fish" which has a name meaning in fish. These three names will be "heart, milk, and whale." Other fish will be one that has the name of a wood, one which has the name of a sport usually enjoyed in freezing weather, others with names of an animal, a heavenly body, a piece of land in Massachusetts running out into the sea, a metal and a heavenly being. The names of these fishes are base, skate, dogfish, starfish, cod, goldfish, silverfish and angel fish.

FRAUDULENT USE OF THE MAILS CANNON AND RIFLE SILENCED ON WEEK OLD BABY BOY DESERTED

Letters Pertaining to Charge Were Identified at Trial in U. S. District Court

NEW YORK, Dec. 4.—W. J. Clark, a manufacturer of Salem, O., and Col. Charles Heyl, U. S. A., retired, today identified a number of letters which they had received from Julian Hawthorne, who with Josiah Quincy, Dr. W. J. Morton and Dr. Albert Freeman was on trial in the United States district court charged with fraudulent use of the mails in promoting Canadian mining claims. Counsel for the defense read a letter to Mr. Hawthorne written in the fall of 1907 in which the

NOT ENOUGH SHELVES

In Our Polling Booths to Cover the Law

THIS IS THE VERY LATEST QUESTION AT CITY HALL

And a Little Question Bird Passed It to Statistician King—Omne Allard is a Little Bit Out

Are there marking shelves or compartments enough in the different polling booths in Lowell to cover the law? This little question bird flew into the office of the board of registrars of voters this forenoon and landed on Statistician John King's arm. The question bird sent John to the dope book, the election laws, and after a hunt of about three minutes, John, rather shamefacedly acknowledged that there was some foundation for such a question.

After making the necessary impression on the Prof. Hutchins of the registrars' department the little question bird flew away. "One marking place or compartment for every 75 voters." These were the words that the little question bird had pointed out and Mr. King indulged in some lightning calculation. "In precinct 3 of ward 3 there will be about 1200 votes cast and that will necessitate 16 different compartments. There are quite a number of precincts that will exceed the thousand mark," soliloquized John and, turning to the reporter who had just dropped in, said: "Well, it isn't up to the board of registrars." John went all over the dope book again and provided his figures and first reading. Now it is up to somebody to see to it that marking shelves or compartments enough are supplied to cover the law if it isn't attended to some defeated candidate may take advantage of it.

Allard Takes Umbrage

Chairman Allard of the board of registrars of voters is a bit vexed over some recent criticism relative to the alleged dropping of names from the checklist. The criticism had to do with the names of women and it would seem, too, as if it were unfounded. The number of names dropped was 175 and that included deaths and removals. In the case of women voters all that is necessary is to go to the street and number that they register from the previous year and if they are not there, that settles it. The law does not say that the registrars shall look them up as has to be done in the case of the male voters. The women don't pay a witness stated that he had shown one of the Hawthorne letters to a mining engineer, who said to him: "It would seem to me that they have a likely looking property within a few miles of some paying mines. There are dozens and millions of prospects in the world but only a few paying mines." In reply Hawthorne wrote: "We are actually taking out silver ore today," and urged the engineer to employ his expert friend to investigate, stating "that it will serve your purpose better than any statement I might make."

THE BALKAN BATTLEFIELD

Russia Replies to What She Terms "Rattling of German Sword"—She May Take Drastic Measures

LONDON, Dec. 4.—Cannon and rifle have been silenced on the Balkan battlefield with the signature of the armistice last evening or at least they will be soon as word of the truce can reach the more isolated combatants.

The tangle among the great powers, however, persists and becomes even more complicated as the days pass without the discovery of a means of unravelling it. Russia has retorted to what she terms the "rattling of the German sword" by the imperial chancellor by saying that the repudiation of the methods resorted to at the period when the occupiers of Austria-Hungary of Bosnia and Herzegovina caused a crisis will not now be admitted.

The prominence given by Chancellor Von Bethmann-Hollweg to the idea of St. Petersburg was represented by the newspapers of St. Petersburg.

The general trend of their comment is voiced by the Novoye Vremya, which says: "History is repeating itself, but it is not so easy now to force Russia into a position of a faint hearted retreat. Such intimidation will frighten nobody. The immediate withdrawal of the vast Russian deposits in the German banks is advocated by many of the Russian journals."

The war parties both in Russia and Austria-Hungary seem to hold the public platform for the moment against the peaceable disposed ministers.

PEACE PLENIPOTENTIARIES WILL BEGIN WORK IN LONDON ONE WEEK FROM FRIDAY

SOFIA, Dec. 4.—The peace plenipotentiaries representing Turkey. But garia, Serbia and Montenegro will begin their work in London on Friday of next week.

The armistice signed at 5 o'clock last evening at the village of Baghiche took the revised form drafted by Dr. Danov, speaker of the Bulgarian parliament. It contains the following conditions:

1.—The belligerent armies shall remain in the positions they at present occupy.

2.—The besieged Turkish fortresses shall not be re-occupied.

3.—The evacuation of the Bulgarian army in the field shall be carried out by way of the Black sea and Adrianople commencing ten days after the signature of the armistice.

GREEK PLENIPOTENTIARIES HAVE RESERVED DECISION FOR TWENTY-FOUR HOURS

SOFIA, Dec. 4.—It is officially announced that the Greek plenipotentiaries at Baghiche will not reject the terms of the armistice, but have reserved their decision for 24 hours.

Even in the event of her declining to approve the armistice, Greece will participate in the peace negotiations in London.

BALKAN PEACE PACT SIGNED, BUT GREECE HOLDS ALLOP, SEEKING FURTHER CONCESSIONS

LONDON, Dec. 4.—The protocol arranging an armistice was signed late last night by the Turkish and Bulgarian delegates, the latter representing also Serbia and Montenegro. Prior to this there had been a long sitting of the Turkish council of ministers to consider fresh proposals submitted by the allies.

Apparently the Greek delegate did not sign the protocol. At present nothing is definitely known on this point nor of the terms of the armistice as revised yesterday.

The refusal of Greece to sign the armistice is susceptible of different interpretations. In the first place, as a tacit armistice has been in existence for more than a week already, it is not impossible that the negotiations may have served to bring about an agreement on the general principles of the peace terms, such as would promise the speedy arrangement of a peace treaty when the conference meets, as is now expected in London. In this case the Greek plenipotentiaries are standing out from the armistice protocol would not be of great importance.

In the second place, the Greek abstention may mean a serious split among the allies, arising from jealousies concerning the possession of Saloniki and the insistence of the Greeks on the capitulation of Adrianople, Scutari and Janina.

Other points which may influence the situation are to be found in the fact that Turkey recently sought to conclude a separate treaty of peace with Greece, that Bulgaria apparently is not unwilling to enter into an alliance with Turkey and that the allies are desirous that Turkey shall enter the Balkan customs league.

There is a rumor in Sofia that a suggestion has been made to substitute Roumania for Greece in the Balkan league. It seems clear from the report that Bulgaria will ignore the Greek offer to land an army in Gallipoli peninsula and to send her fleet to attack the Dardanelles, that the relations between Greece and Bulgaria are greatly strained and that these signs of dissension among the allies leave the situation full of dangerous possibilities.

It is reported that France is trying to persuade Greece to adopt a less unyielding attitude. It is understood that financial pressure and the exhaustion of their forces had much to do with the willingness of Bulgaria and Serbia to conclude peace, and in this respect Greece, which secured her victory with less expense, is better able to continue hostilities.

TURKEY WILL REVICTUAL ALL ARMIES BY SEA—BLOCKADE TO BE RAISED

LONDON, Dec. 4.—The terms of the armistice between the Turkish and Bulgarian armies, as accepted by Bulgaria, provide that the truce shall continue during the whole period of the peace negotiations.

Turkey is to have the right of revictualing all her besieged fortresses, and all the detached bodies of Ottoman troops remaining in Macedonia and elsewhere, as well as the Turkish populations in the various parts of the theatre of war.

Turkey is to have the right of revictualing her fortresses, troops and population by way of the Adriatic and Ionian Seas, in addition to the ordinary available routes. The allied Balkan nations are to furnish safe conduct for the revictualing parties, and the Ottoman convoys are to be permitted to pass, if necessary, through the forces of the allies.

The blockade of the Aegean and Adriatic coasts of European Turkey is to be raised.

The terms are generally regarded as generous, but in view of the great difficulty which Turkey necessarily will find in revictualing her scattered forces, their practical effect probably will not be very important.

The fact that the negotiations for the armistice were regarded as an integral part of the peace negotiations also helped Turkey to secure more favorable terms than would have been granted under other circumstances.

It was found that the parcels are not delivered until after Christmas. The public would do a great favor to the employees as well and insure better mail service if they would make their packages early and also mail their packages prior to the week before the holiday.

In the registry office the clerks are busy handling registered letters being sent principally by the foreign residents of this city to their homes across the water.

Uncle Sam's patrons who have the post card mania should also use care in mailing post cards, especially those which are decorated with tinseled and other materials on which there is a ban. Many people are of the opinion that by placing a postcard with a communication on it and placing the card in an envelope unsealed and placing a one-cent stamp on it, that the card will reach its destination, but such is not the fact for if the person to whom the card is addressed desires to secure the mischievous he or she will have to pay extra postage.

PICTURE OF DESERTED BABY AT DAY NURSERY

By Woman Named Atwood Who Wrote Letter Stating Husband Threatened to Kill Her

A fine, healthy looking baby boy, about nine days old, was abandoned at the rooms of the Young Women's Christian Association last night. Late in the afternoon a rather young and attractive looking woman called at the Y. W. C. A. with the baby in her arms. She gave her name as Mrs. Atwood and her home as Providence, R. I.

Mrs. Atwood had a long talk with Miss Routwell, the secretary, to whom she told a very pitiful story and asked permission for herself and baby to stay there during the night. Miss Routwell, sympathizing with her, gave her permission to remain there last night. At about 7 o'clock Mrs. Atwood left the building, saying that she was going to a nearby drug store to purchase some medicine for the baby. When the young lady failed to return the police were immediately notified, and Sergeant McCoughrey was put on the case.

The young woman put a suit case at the association and the officer examined this, finding several articles of clothing, but no marks whatever that would identify the owner. A description of the young woman was given to the police, but as yet she has not been found. She was about 23 years of age, 5 feet 4 inches in height, dark hair and eyes, very high colored, wore a black suit and a black hat with a white feather.

The officials of the Y. W. C. A. were not very experienced in the handling of an infant and so they notified Agent Richardson at about 10 o'clock last night and he suggested taking the little one to the Day Nursery and placing it under the care of Miss Nelson. This was done and the child spent last night at the home.

This morning the secretary of the Y. W. C. A. received a letter from the mother of the child. The letter was postmarked Lowell and was mailed at 1:30 this morning. The young woman had disguised her handwriting in three different ways on the envelope. It was very crude writing. The following is the letter received:

To the Mother of the Y. W. C. A.
I am in a very pitiful state of mind. I went out last night after I came to your rooms to telephone to my husband why I did not come clear through to Boston; and he told me I could go to the well. I won't say it; all I can say is my heart is broken. I dare not go to him now and I cannot go to work; he says he will kill me and baby, too. I come anywhere near him. Now, I am going to beg some of my sisters in Christ to take my darling to your heart. I freely give him to the ones who can love and cherish him. May God bless your good work; he is 7 days old, named Johnnie Albert, but you may name him to please your own heart. Well, I am heartbroken and can write no more, but in God's name be good to my darling.

Yours in Christ,
Mrs. Atwood.

It can be easily seen that this was a deliberate plan to leave the baby in the care of the Y. W. C. A. and was not done on the spur of the moment, as the young woman tries to indicate. There was very little hope of the woman returning to claim the child, and unless the police can locate her it will be a problem as to what to do with the baby. The impression from the letter is that the woman is mentally disturbed, although it is said that she appeared perfectly sane last night.

The case is in the hands of the police and Agent Richardson is at the present time and when the latter was interviewed by a representative of the Sun, he said that this was one of the most difficult cases out of the many of the territory of Lowell and he was called to his attention. The woman by now is some distance from here and she left absolutely nothing behind her by which she might be identified.

The representative of the Sun and Agent Richardson visited the Day Nursery and examined the contents of the suit case left by the young woman. Nothing of any value was in it, but there were several articles of clothing and several instruments, and notices of medicine. The clothing belonging to the baby appears to have been made in some institution as it is all machine stitched but there are no marks whatever on it and it is a state law that all garments that are made in any institution should be marked with the name of the place. The opinion expressed by Agent Richardson is that the woman has just left some confidential nature of her illness.

The baby when seen was lying in a comfortable crib and was busily engaged in feeding from a bottle.

TAXING THE CEMETERIES

Recent Decision Productive of Discussion

The decision of the full bench of the supreme court in the case of the town of Milford against the county commissioners of Worcester relative to the taxation of cemeteries is quite interesting. The town assessors undertook to assess the $70,000 fund for perpetual care of lots in the Milford cemetery. The county commissioners ruled against the assessors on the ground that the cemetery is a charitable institution. The decision in the case was published in The Sun a few days ago and since then it has been quite generally discussed.

The supreme court overruled the commissioners on the ground that the cemetery is not connected with a church or charity.

It is believed by lawyers and others that the decision regarding the Milford cemetery will be found to rest on special circumstances which do not obtain in the general run of cemeteries in the state. The laws relating to taxation, codified and corrected to July 1, 1912, and under the head of persons and property exempt from taxation, read: "Cemeteries, tombs and rights of burial, so long as they shall be dedicated to the burial of the dead," which means that it is dedicated to that purpose they are free from taxation.

Commissioner of Public Property

Cummings, whose department includes cemeteries, says he cannot see how the Emerson cemetery is to become taxable. "It would be foolish," he said, "for the city to tax its own property and I do not think that the decision in question will affect any cemetery in Lowell."

Four Hundred Prelates of Catholic

sive Ceremonies

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Dec. 4.—Four hundred archbishops, bishops and priests of the Roman Catholic church gathered at St. Patrick's cathedral this morning to take part in the ordination of Rev. Dr. E. J. Hanna as bishop of San Francisco.

The most distinguished guest was Dr. John Bonzano, apostolic delegate to the United States. Other noted prelates in attendance were Archbishop Quigley of Chicago and Bishop D. J. O'Connell. The services this morning began at 10 o'clock when the bishops and priests in full vestments marched to the cathedral.

Archbishop Bonzano was the consecrator and Archbishop Quigley and Bishop O'Connell assistants.

Vicar General Curran of the diocese of Rochester was assistant celebrant of the mass.

Rev. J. J. Hartley, president of St. Bernard's seminary, was deacon of the mass. The consecration was preached by Bishop Hickey and Rev. Thomas Groggin of St. Bernard's was master of ceremonies.

Archbishop Riordan of San Francisco, whose auxiliary Dr. Hanna will be, was represented by his secretary, John J. Cantwell.

JOHNSON WEDS AGAIN

Negro Pugilist Married

Lucille Cameron

CHICAGO, Ill., Dec. 4.—Jack Johnson, the gigantic negro pugilist, who is shortly to be prosecuted under the Mann white slave act, took to himself his second white wife yesterday when he was married to Miss Lucille Cameron, the girl for whose abduction he was arrested a few weeks ago.

Wife Dead Two Months

The marriage of the champion heavy weight fighter will not interfere with his prosecution, however, as the indictments under which he is to be tried concern his relations with a woman named Belle Schreiber.

Two months ago, Johnson's first white wife, formerly Mrs. Duryea of New York, committed suicide and was buried from the house which was the scene of the nuptials yesterday afternoon.

The ceremony was performed in the parlor of the home of Johnson's mother, 3314 South Wabash avenue, by Rev. Harry D. Roberts, the negro pastor of St. Mark's Episcopal church, while armed men, hired by Johnson, guarded the doors.

Before his marriage Johnson stated that he loved the girl and believed it his duty to marry her.

The blessing bride, whose mother had promised the federal authorities that she would take her daughter south, was garbed in a suit of black and white shepherd plaid, with a large picture hat trimmed with plumes, and a diamond ring for which Johnson paid $2500.

Groom's Suit Wonderful

The bridegroom was arrayed in a costume compared with which Joseph's well known coat of many colors would resemble a faded gingham dress. His clothes were of a pattern which caused his huge figure to stand forth from the assembled guests like Scotland light. The suit was made up of large black and white checks, designed to match the costume of his bride, and diamonds scintillated on his necktie and fingers.

The white persons at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Sig Hart, Mr. and Mrs. S. H. D. Wilkins, Miss Laura Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Danielson, and a girl about 18 years old, whose name could not be learned and who attended Miss Cameron.

AN IMPORTANT HEARING

be Held Tomorrow

A hearing on the proposition to tax the property of private charitable corporations and educational institutions will be held tomorrow morning at 10.30 o'clock at room 234, at the state house. The matter was being discussed at city hall this forenoon and a prominent citizen and big real estate owner who had just emerged from the treasurer's office joined in the discussion.

"The taxing of charitable corporations," he said, "is probably not as serious a matter as would be the taxing of private educational institutions. I may be a little selfish in this matter, and the only excuse I have to offer is, that self-preservation is the first law of nature."

"I remember reading an address delivered by Mayor O'Donnell at a banquet held before the pupils of St. Joseph's college some time last summer. I think in August, and in which he told of the number of pupils that were attending the parochial schools of that parish: 900 boys and 1500 girls. The total number of teachers was 43."

The thought occurred to me at that time, and I confess it had never occurred to me before, that the city of Lowell would be in a bad way if the parochial schools should close their doors and transfer their responsibility to the city. If the parochial schools were closed, the city, of course, would have to take care of the children and would almost bankrupt the city.

You can imagine what the tax rate would be and I tell you that I am going to attend that hearing and ask them to let well enough alone. I do not know that the private schools would close their doors if their property were made taxable, but such a thing might come to pass and if I see it coming there will be some cheap real estate for sale in Lowell."

The tax commissioner, William D. Trefry, will give the hearing tomorrow, acting under the terms of the resolve passed by the last legislature as follows:

"Resolved, that the tax commissioner is hereby directed to investigate the question of reimbursing cities and towns for loss of taxes on the property of private charitable corporations and educational institutions located in such cities and towns, and also the advisability of making such corporations and institutions subject to taxation; and to report the result of his investigation to the next general court on or before the first Wednesday of January, accompanying his report with such recommendations, if any, for legislation as the commissioner may deem advisable."

Cup to Be Presented

The captains, managers and players of all the teams of the Suburban league are to have a banquet at the Y. M. C. A. Dec. 12. The Westford team won the championship of the league and at this banquet they are to be presented a cup. The league was made up of the Westfords, Cubs, Yankees, Beacons and the Indians. There has been a great deal of friendly rivalry between the different teams, but all of them will admit that the Westford team is an unusually good one and is well worthy of the championship.

Hon. John Jacob Rogers will be the speaker at the meeting and several of the captains and players of the teams will discuss baseball and their playing during the past season.

Book-a-Month Club

The regular meeting of the Book-a-Month club was held Monday evening at the home of Mrs. L. E. Kimball, 19 Whitney avenue. The program of the meeting was in charge of Mrs. Alice Hibbs.

At the roll call each member responded to her name by giving an item of current news. The subject of the meeting was "The Copper Country," the address being given by Rev. J. T. Carleton. Rev. Mr. Carleton has spent several vacations in investigating the mining conditions in the mines and he gave a very interesting talk on the subject, illustrating his subject by specimens of ore and pictures of the miners and their homes.

Refreshments were then served by the hostess, assisted by Miss Anna Mosher, Miss Deborah D. Blossom and Miss Bessie F. Woodbury.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Merton Gilden, in Gildeden avenue.

ACROSS FROM CITY HALL

HARRY MOORE
Clever Comedian With the Taylor Stock Company, Appearing at the Opera House

AMUSEMENT NOTES

Opera House
Every day this week will be bargain day at the Opera House, where the Taylor Stock company is playing a week's engagement at popular prices. Good comedy dramas acted by a competent company and presented with special scenery and effects carried by the company presented for the small admission price of ten cents charged for orchestra seats is proving a potent attraction, judging from the large attendance yesterday afternoon to witness a performance of "The Blind Girl" and of "Regeneration" at the evening performance. This afternoon the ever popular drama, "The Colleen Bawn" will be the bill and tonight "Deserted at the Altar" will be presented. There will be a change of play every day and such plays as "The Yankee Doodle Detective," "The Old Clothes Man" and "Oliver Twist" are to be seen during the engagement.

NANCE O'NEIL
Supported by a company of merit that is pronounced by critics elsewhere to be the popular and talented actress, Nance O'Neill comes to the Opera House for a two days' engagement commencing Friday Dec. 13th.

During her engagement here Miss O'Neill will be seen in two of her greatest successes, "Magda" and "The Fires of St. John."

THE END OF THE BRIDGE
Miss Jessica Carbee, who is to portray the part of "Joan" in "The End of the Bridge," which is to appear at the Opera House, is an actress of compelling charm. Two years ago, Miss Carbee was introduced to Boston society at a tea given by her mother to numerous friends. It had been the hope of her parents that she would be attracted by the call of society, but Miss Carbee forewore all social pleasures to embrace a life-work of serious import and strenuous labor. She has appeared in several well known plays, but none of these has fitted her especially youthful and charming personality so much as "Joan" in "The End of the Bridge."

Kelly's Theatre
The winning combination at the Kelly Theatre this week consists of "Court By Girls," a splendid musical farce, given with attention to every detail; "Holligan and Sykes," an up-to-the-minute mixture; "Bum-Bum-Bum," a sure novelty musical act; the Zerkat, inside-down artists; Edgar Berger, a contortionist; and Cady, a slugging cartoonist. It's the best show for many moons. Good seats obtainable for all performances. Box office phone 28.

The Playhouse
In the starring of that wonderfully interesting detective play, "Sherlock Holmes" at the Playhouse this week, Kendal Weston once again demonstrates his unusual cleverness as a producer. In all of the five acts his characteristic is apparent and no doubt fully appreciated by the patrons of the theatre. Next week the company will appear in the light comedy play, "Merry Mary Anne." A note of one of the company to be given away on Monday night and Tuesday afternoon.

Merrimack Square
The bill at the Merrimack Square theatre this week is one of the best ever amalgamated and is playing as it should, to the patrons of the theatre. Maintaining are the star act and there are Kelly Shannon Co. in "The Little Doctor," Hard, the world famous cyclist, Henry Curry and Verona, the girl with the million dollar voice. Miss Verona will give an operatic recital on Friday evening, when all are given an opportunity to enjoy a rare treat. The pictures are also good.

Academy of Music
For days the boys at the Academy of Music have been planning a lot of merriment to work on the unsuspecting amateurs this evening and the chances are that never in the history of amateur performances was there so much fun developed as will be found this evening.

The manager has "doped" out a fine plan to entertain his patrons and, coupled with the feature amateur work, a great bill is on tap. The pictures also are good.

In regard to skin diseases, medical authorities are now agreed on this: Don't irritate the disease germs in your skin by the use of greasy salves, and thus encourage them to multiply. VIOLENT WOMEN AND I. W. W.

The London suffragettes have demonstrated by their hysterical outbreaks that they are not to be trusted with the franchise. To invest such characters with the franchise would be utterly foolish, and we do not expect that the English nation will do anything of the kind.

The cause of woman suffrage was advancing rapidly in England when these extremists began to use violence. At first they directed their demonstrations against the government officials by insulting them or even assaulting them in public places, and going so far as to interfere with the proceedings of parliament itself, until it became necessary to throw a cordon of police around the parliament buildings to keep away women who might be in league with the suffragettes to work some mischief, to assault officials or damage property. When these tactics failed the suffragettes resorted to the smashing of windows in government buildings and in prominent stores along the principal streets. For this offense some of them were lodged in jail but there they resorted to what is known as the hunger strike, refusing to take any food and making it necessary for the government officials either to force food down their throats or take the alternative of letting them die of starvation or else set them at liberty. In most cases the government is unwilling to incur responsibility for allowing the women to die in prison.

The suffragettes have now adopted a new scheme to cause trouble, and one that is fully as contemptible as any yet devised. They have begun to pour acid into the mail boxes, making the contents illegible and destroying the contents. This has already caused a great deal of loss in London, and is one of the most vicious schemes yet resorted to by the suffragettes. Perhaps nothing yet attempted by these disturbers has excited the people of England to a greater extent than this destruction of mail matter delivered in government boxes.

It must be clear to every thinking person that this policy assumed by the suffragettes will only retard the progress of their cause. Peaceable agitation is everywhere respected, and if conducted properly will win reforms in England or in any other country. We have some examples in this country of the foolishness of a resort to violence in order to obtain reforms of various kinds in the action of the I. W. W. at Lawrence and elsewhere, in which the cause of the wage earner has been injured rather than benefited when he is advised to resort to direct action which means a general strike with or without cause and even to sabotage in order to compel the manufacturers to yield.

In this particular case there is complete disregard of the rights of private or even of public ownership. When men invest their money in legitimate business, they are entitled to protection in that business just as much as the laborer is entitled to protection in his industrial pursuits. With the laborer it is a question of how much he will get for his labor. He is free to sell it at the highest possible price, and in the highest market. On the other hand the employer is free to advance his own interests by legitimate means but he must not impose upon his employees or upon the community in which he does business.

Under the policy of the I. W. W. the wage earner ignores the rights of capital and claims that the factories whether owned and built by corporations or individuals, belong by right to the wage earner. Capital has its rights as well as labor, and both must be fully respected in a community regulated by law. The laws provide ample protection for both, and the agitators that try to trample upon these laws injure the cause of labor instead of helping it.

In every country there are wrongs to be righted and they can be righted by peaceful agitation without resorting to violence. There are many examples of this in our own and other countries. It is true the reformers learned to keep within the limits of the law in working for better conditions. It is in this way they will attain success, whereas by resorting to violence they alienate public sympathy and injure the cause they claim to advance.

THE HARRIMAN MERGER VOID

Considerable surprise has been caused all over the country by the decision of the United States supreme court annulling the merger by which the Union Pacific railroad secured control of the Southern Pacific some years ago under the management of the late Mr. Harriman, the particular friend of Col. Roosevelt.

The decision as given out by the court follows the same lines as in the Northern Securities case in which the court was divided five to four. The basis of the decision is, that the roads which were united under the merger were engaged in competition for interstate business and that the merger is therefore a violation of the Sherman anti-trust laws. The Harriman contention was, that the roads were so far apart that there could not be much actual competition. This is wiped out by the decision of the court which will stand to prevent the formation of any consolidation between competitive lines of railroads doing interstate business. It is now compulsory upon the Union Pacific company to segregate the stock of the Southern Pacific and allow the latter company to do business upon its own responsibility. The decision is regarded as very important; but if it has no more effect in preventing a monopoly than had the decision of dissolution in the Standard Oil case, the effect will be hardly perceptible.

It is quite probable that this decision will prevent the proposed merger of the New York, New Haven & Hartford and the Grand Trunk. The New England states are strongly opposed to this proposed union of the two roads, and the matter will be investigated by the federal authorities.

It is likely that this decision will be more effective in preventing future monopolies than in breaking up those already formed. Whether it would apply to the union of the New York, New Haven & Hartford with the Boston & Maine is problematical as this has been already sanctioned by legislative action. Massachusetts has the power to buy up any railroad chartered by it for its own protection against any possible monopoly, but has never chosen to use this authority. The decision of the Harriman case will undoubtedly enable the states to prevent railroad mergers that are but another name for railroad monopolies. The supreme court in this decision has cleared the air of much of the fog that surrounded these questions and the result cannot but be beneficial for the regulation of railroads and their various schemes for consolidation throughout the country.

THE STATE HIGHWAY

The Municipal Journal recently mentioned the progress of work on the state highway to Lawrence, showing that improvements of this kind are not overlooked by journals devoted to municipal affairs. The work has been somewhat delayed on account of water flowing down from the high land at some points on the north side, but this has finally been overcome by a system of draining that carries the water to the river. This highway will be of vast importance to both Lowell and Lawrence and a great relief to those who had to encounter the roughness of the old road which was very dangerous to travel. There is a prospect that in the near future the road will be finished and ready for travel.

The baseball fans get some consolation from the fact that even though the winter with its ice and snow does prevent exhibitions of the national game for a period of months, yet it cannot prohibit the great army of "experts" from compiling the daily "dope" and discussing the advantages of the various plays and methods of management.

Let us hope the pure food fair will help to educate the people to what is pure and what impure, how to secure the one and avoid the other.

Seen and Heard

"Finish every day and be done with it. You have done what you could; some blundered and some didn't; no doubt about it; forget them as soon as you can. Tomorrow is a new day; you shall begin it well and serenely and with too high a spirit to be cumbered with your old nonsense."

"He who thinks he can find in himself the means of doing without others is much mistaken, but he who thinks that others cannot do without him is still more mistaken."

POPPING CORN

And there they sat, a-popping corn. John Styles and Susan Cutter. John Styles as fat as any ox. And Susan fat as butter.

And there they sat and shelled the corn. And raked and stirred the fire. And talked and chattered of corn. And hissed their chins up higher.

Then Susan she the pepper shook. Till both their faces grew as red. As saucers made of copper.

And then they shelled and popped and ate. All kinds of fun a-poking. While he hawlawed at her remarks. And she laughed at his joking.

And still they popped, and still they ate. John's mouth was like a hopper. And stirred the fire and sprinkled salt. And shook and shook the pepper.

The clock struck nine, the clock struck ten. And still the corn kept popping. It struck eleven and then struck twelve. And still no signs of stopping.

And John he ate and Sue she thought. The corn did pop and patter. Till John cried out, "The corn's a-fire! Why Susan, what's the matter?"

Said she, "John Styles, it's one o'clock! You'll die of indigestion. I'm sick of all this popping corn. Why don't you pop the question?"

—Old Poem.

It was kit inspection and the different companies of the battalion were standing with their kits on the ground in front of them. The sergeant-major was making the examination when his eagle eye detected the absence of soap in the kit of Private Flynn, and he demanded what excuse the man had to give.

"Please, sir, it's all used," said Flynn.

"Used?" shouted the sergeant-major. "Why the first rule of camp is, I had served me for my kit lasted me three years, while you are not a year in the ranks yet. How do you account for that?"

Flynn's eye had the faintest suspicion of a twinkling as he replied:

"Please, sir, I wash every day."

And the sergeant-major walked on, while the whole company grinned.

Being found out as ever so much worse than counting the rubs, most of us believe. Small Dorothy thinks so, as narrating just before the school term closed she grew restless and found her "tears" in her eyes.

Outside the birds were singing and all outdoors was so beautiful she decided she would write an "excuse" and spend the rest of the day playing. She spelled out the words in her nearest penmanship and took the paper up to "Teacher." One glance was sufficient to prove to the lady that the child's mother had not written it.

Questioned, she would confess nothing and was finally sent home with a note telling the parents what she had done. When they tried to talk to her she sobbed out: "Well, mamma, I don't know why you all would me so. I tried to write it as near like you as I could."

IT'S FINE FOR CATARRH

Millions of Catarrh Victims Have Used Booth's HYOMER With Wonderful Results

If you own one you can get a bottle of HYOMER (liquid) for only 50c.

If you do not own one, $1.00 will secure you a complete outfit, including Inhaler.

And now you have in your possession something that has banished more cases of catarrh than all the catarrh specialists on earth.

Just breathe the HYOMER—that's all you have to do—no stomach dosing. The soothing, healing air passes over the inflamed membrane, kills the germs and breaks the inflammation.

It is guaranteed to end the distress of catarrh, coughs, croup and colds, or money back. Distributed by Carter & Sherburne and druggists everywhere.

THINK HICKEY CAN TELL MORE

Holding Back as to Crimes Police Say—Some Boy Mysteries That Are to be Cleared Up

BUFFALO, Dec. 4.—The authorities are convinced that J. Frank Hickey, confessed murderer, has not yet told all in regard to his killings. Letters are pouring in on Chief Gilson of Lackawanna, Chief Ryan and other officials in an effort to hasten several other murders of boys, kidnappings and mysterious assaults on the man who has been smoking cigars and reading the Bible in a separate cell in the county jail.

These are some of the things that it is thought Hickey may be able to explain. The disappearance on April 14, 1910, of Edward D. Adams, 15 years old, of Kane, Pa., concerning on Oct. 8, 1907, of Philip Mastrom, 9 years old, in Bridgeport, Conn., murder of James Lawrence Pratt, aged 14, on Dec. 12, 1908, in Pittsburgh; disappearance in August, 1911, of the 15-year-old son of Gideon K. McMillen of Canaan, Mass., murder of one boy and kidnapping of another in Reading, Pa., in April, 1909, murder of William Mather, aged 12, on Feb. 20, 1912, in North Providence, R. I., murder of Eddie Gardner, a Wilmington, Del., boy, some years ago, and the death of Freddie McKenna, 3 years old, in Detroit, March 13, 1907.

It is very probable that the letters and evidence in these cases will be handed over to Mr. Daniel V. Murphy, who is to conduct the defense of Hickey, to see if he can induce him to confess to any of these crimes for which he might be responsible.

A 14-year-old boy of East Aurora was brought into Buffalo yesterday morning by Deputy Sheriff Christopher Schaefer and was taken to the jail to see if he could identify Hickey as the man who attempted to molest him a couple of years ago. The boy, whose name could not be learned, said that he had never seen Hickey.

Hickey, questioned, denied all knowledge of the cases of William Mather and Philip Mastrom.

HELPED HICKEY

Having No Suspicion of His Character, Rescue Workers Aided Him to Get to New York

BOSTON, Dec. 4.—J. Frank Hickey, the confessed murderer of boys, was helped out of Boston to New York by persons highly prominent in the cause of temperance and rescue work in this city. Mrs. Katherine Lunt Stevenson, president of the Massachusetts Women's Temperance Union, and David Reid, founder and superintendent of the Hope Mission for Women, 1749 Washington street.

Mrs. Stevenson talked with him twice on Monday, Nov. 11, a little more than three weeks ago, and gave him

$5 towards paying his fare to New York, while Mr. Reid went with him to the South station and saw him off on the New York train. Neither had the slightest suspicion that he was a bad man, but they had only an unfortunate victim of drink.

Hickey, according to Mrs. Stevenson's story, came to the rooms of the W. C. T. U. at 10 o'clock Monday morning, Nov. 11. He told Mrs. Stevenson that he "had been on a drunk for ten days" but that he wanted to "make himself right with God."

He told Mrs. Stevenson that he wanted to go to the sanitarium at Whittings, N. J., near Toms River, where later he was arrested, and asked for his fare to New York, saying that a missionary friend in that city would help him the rest of the way.

Accustomed to that class of customers, Mrs. Stevenson was at first suspicious, but Hickey showed her a letter from Mrs. Dora Bawa, superintendent of the Whittings Sanitarium, with whom she is well acquainted, to the effect that Hickey had made himself sane and only such kinds of work that he was welcome to come there again if occasion arose.

For an hour, Mrs. Stevenson says, Hickey talked with her about his life. She was impressed with his penitence and bearing, his air of refinement and his excellent English, and finally gave him his cents for breakfast and told him to call again at 2 o'clock in the afternoon.

Later, she asked Mr. Reid to come over, and he was there when, at 2 o'clock Hickey returned. Before them, she says, Hickey went down on his knees and prayed to God for forgiveness and guidance, promising, when apparent sincerity, to do better, change his manner of life and become more of a Christian.

Mrs. Stevenson finally gave him 13 cents, taking his note for the money, and Mr. Reid went with him to the South station and saw that he bought his ticket and started off on the train. He shook Mr. Reid's hand warmly and said: "I shall pray to God to make me stronger."

Mrs. Stevenson subsequently received a letter from Hickey, who wrote in her name to the point, expressing thanks for the help given him and repenting his pledges to improve his life. This letter and the previous note for the money, she says, were the same. That was the first time she attacked any importance to the man or his visit. She has since referred all her information in the case to the district attorney.

"Hickey," Mrs. Stevenson says, "looked anything but a criminal. I thought his face rather strong instead of weak. He had a good sized head, prominent, dome-like forehead. Only in the quiver of his eyes did he betray any weakness. I think the man a

Manchester, N. H., Authorities Recall Disappearance of Champaign Boy in 1907

MANCHESTER, N. H., Dec. 4.—The arrest of J. Frank Hickey in Buffalo, charged with the murder of young Joseph Joseph, has caused the question to arise in the minds of the local authorities as to whether he may not know something about the disappearance of 8-year-old Xavier Champaign in this city on July 15, 1907.

The Champaign boy, in company with Alphonse Rene and Joseph Dalgic, left his home at 2 Pearl avenue early in the morning of the day he dropped out of sight for Derryfield park. The boys finally separated, Champaign going to the eastward. Champaign has not been seen since.

WOONSOCKET, R. I., Dec. 4.—Mart Henderson, the Buffalo wrestler, has a fracture in his ribs as a result of his bout here with Raymond Cozans last night. The men had wrestled 35 minutes when Cozans picked Henderson up and threw him to the floor with such force as to break a rib.

10,000 Women Vote

The fight for school committee in Fall River furnished the spectacular feature of the campaign. 10,000 women casting their votes, the fight overshadowing the other city contests. The democrats won two of the three positions.

AN OBJECTION has been raised by a few players against the proposed amendment on the ground that it would give the scoring forwards a big advantage and place a handicap on the defense men. This has yet to be proved. When a player carrying the ball is obliged to pass at the touch it will not only make possession of the ball insecure, but prevent an attacking trio from deciding on any given formation until within the goal section, when it is pretty hard to make a pass. If such a change would militate against the backs, what of it? The opportunity would be equal for both sides, and a match with plenty of scoring is less trying on the players, who have a few minutes rest after each tally, and is decidedly more interesting to the spectators.

MAJOR BOYLE BEATEN

Veteran Executive of Newport, R. I., Loses to William MacLeod by 433 Votes

NEWPORT, R. I., Dec. 4.—Mayor Patrick J. Boyle, serving his 14th year as mayor and twice defeated, was beaten again in the city election yesterday by William MacLeod, a young lawyer. Reports of the Law Enforcement league of Newport unquestionably aided in electing Mr. MacLeod, whose majority was 433. The total vote was MacLeod, 2340; Boyle, 1907.

The total vote cast yesterday was 4317, with 5532 names on the voting list. Last year Boyle secured a plurality of 432, running against two other candidates.

The taxpayers voted for two playgrounds and for improving the public beach. No party affiliations are permitted in the city election under the present charter.

Last night hundreds of supporters of the mayor-elect formed a parade and escorted Mr. MacLeod about the city. Mrs. John Nicholas Brown, president of the Civic league, with other women, was in line, occupying a large touring car.

Alderman William Shepley was defeated. Aldermen Thomas C. Abro, Jr., Frank T. Hughes and John P. Leddy were re-elected. Michael P. Kelly and Joseph Kirby were elected to the board of aldermen as new members.

WATER POLO POPULAR

Although Several Clubs Have Placed Ban on it

American water polo is dying hard. In spite of the fact that the A. A. U. and several clubs have placed the ban on it, players in every section have pronounced in favor of its retention, and the colleges have refused to join in the movement against it. For though the colleges don't exactly play the "American game," they play a game so closely resembling it that there is very little difference in the two.

The efforts of the advocates of the English game, however, to have the American game adopted by the A. A. U. have given rise to the rumor that several eastern colleges would give their support and that an attempt would be made to introduce the necessary changes in the intercollegiate tournament.

A canvass of the various universities holding memberships in the Intercollegiate Swimming association disclosed the fact that with one or two exceptions the college swimmers are opposed to any interference with the style of play that they have been using successfully. Nor can this be wondered at, for the college game has proved popular with the players and the public, and the managers contend that they cannot draw crowds if a water polo game is not scheduled. The trouble experienced in former years with college water polo, owing to incompetent referees and the rough work permitted, has been largely eliminated, thanks to the appointment of competent referees, so that today the college game is on a sounder footing than ever.

made to disable an opponent. The attacking forwards are too eager to "score" to think of anything else but the goal, and the defending backs are too anxious to protect their goal to devote their time to settling personal grievances. As a result the fight is always hard and strenuous, but clean.

It is usually out in the pool that objectionable tactics are witnessed. Often two backs will mass on an incoming forward, and while one engages him the other will slip up behind him and throttle him with a strangle hold until nearly unconscious. The victim is left defenseless. For the moment he lets go of the ball it is tossed to another player, and the referee's attention shifts with it. Then the man who is punishing him can do so with impunity, and accidents often happen.

Another rule that would accomplish a great amount of good would be that of ordering that as soon as a man carrying the ball is touched by an opponent he must pass the ball under penalty of a foul. This would open the game and make it more attractive and still allow it to retain the hand to hand encounters. It would also afford a pretty exhibition of dodging and passing the ball, ending always in a hard battle for the goal.

An objection has been raised by a few players against the proposed amendment on the ground that it would give the scoring forwards a big advantage and place a handicap on the defense men. This has yet to be proved. When a player carrying the ball is obliged to pass at the touch it will not only make possession of the ball insecure, but prevent an attacking trio from deciding on any given formation until within the goal section, when it is pretty hard to make a pass. If such a change would militate against the backs, what of it? The opportunity would be equal for both sides, and a match with plenty of scoring is less trying on the players, who have a few minutes rest after each tally, and is decidedly more interesting to the spectators.

Watch Bracelets

These new watch bracelets are extremely handsome. On jointed wristbands of silver, gold or platinum a tiny open face watch is attached. The back of the watch is generally plain or merely decorated with the monogram, but the metal rim which encircles the face is ornamented to match the links of the bracelet.

There are many very attractive designs in this medium article, those of the colored enamels being especially pleasing. The color is chosen to correspond with the shade of the gown with which it is worn. With the fashionable silk or satin suit of dark blue there are watch bracelets enameled in iridescent blues and greens, in mosaic patterns of dark blue or in plain blue enamel. Another bracelet in dark blue has the watch face in blue enamel and the bracelet is set with sapphires. Some of the more elaborate bracelets are made of platinum, set with diamonds and pearls. Delicate and lace-like in appearance, these jewels are exceptionally beautiful.

An unusual but very artistic design is a bracelet with a square shaped watch case. The case is of gold, set with diamonds to match the bracelet, and the round white enamel watch face is finished with minerals of gold. The beauty of these bracelets is enhanced by their flexibility, and they are exceedingly comfortable to wear, for they fit snugly and hold close against the arm.

Water polo is dying hard. In spite of the fact that the A. A. U. and several clubs have placed the ban on it, players in every section have pronounced in favor of its retention, and the colleges have refused to join in the movement against it. For though the colleges don't exactly play the "American game," they play a game so closely resembling it that there is very little difference in the two.

The efforts of the advocates of the English game, however, to have the American game adopted by the A. A. U. have given rise to the rumor that several eastern colleges would give their support and that an attempt would be made to introduce the necessary changes in the intercollegiate tournament.

AT ST. JEAN BAPTISTE CHURCH

Mass Will be Celebrated in Basement Dec. 15th—Contractor Now Cleaning Debris

Work of demolishing the interior of St. Jean Baptiste church, which was gutted by fire a couple of weeks ago, was started yesterday and at the present time considerable work has been done. It is very probable that mass will be celebrated in the lower church next Sunday, or at least a week from Sunday.

Contractor J. B. Morin had at first been asked to take down the trusses in the main church and also to clean the building of the debris, but later when the contract for the plans and general construction of the edifice was awarded to Architect Henry L. Bourke, Contractor William Drapeau was given the contract to tear down the ceiling in the lower church and also to clear the upper part of the building, as well as to build a temporary roof over the floor of the main part of the church, and yesterday a large shift of men with Pierre Lebourdais as foreman was set to work.

The plaster ceiling in the lower church was torn down rapidly and it is expected this part of the work will be finished this evening. Some time before Friday the contract for the metal ceiling and the electrical work will be awarded, as already figures have been submitted. The electrical work in the lower church will be completed in a short time, while the metal ceiling will not be completely installed for at least six weeks. However, as soon as the temporary roof is set over the second floor and all danger of accidents has been removed, services will be held in the basement. The sanctuary and sacristy in the lower part of the church, which were damaged considerably by the flames, will be temporarily repaired.

The cleaning in the upper part of the edifice is progressing rapidly and already the main aisle has been cleared of the debris. A large number of men are employed on the job. Their work with the use of shovels fill large baskets and the debris is dumped into a wagon.

SENTENCE DEFERRED

In Case of Ex-Chamberlain Hyde

NEW YORK, Dec. 4.—Sentence upon Charles H. Hyde, former city chamberlain, convicted of bribery in connection with the misuse of city funds, was deferred today when Justice Goff announced that he would take under consideration for one week the plea of his attorney, for an arrest of judgment. In the meantime an investigation will be made by the special "John Doe" grand jury under orders from Justice Goff of the charges that Hyde received undue favors while a prisoner in the toms and the allegation that employees of the prison had knowledge of evidence tending to show the convicted man's innocence.

Before Hyde was arraigned William J. Wright, deputy commissioner of corrections, who is alleged to have said that he had shown favors to Hyde because he believed in his innocence, was examined by Justice Goff. Wright denied that he had any new evidence favorable to Hyde, but was told by the court that he must appear before the grand jury and testify.

Application by Hyde's counsel that his client be admitted to bail was refused by the court and Hyde was remanded to the toms until sentence is passed.

POLICE BASEBALL PLAYERS Held Enjoyable Banquet and Entertainment in Chelsea Today—Large Lowell Delegation

About 40 members of the local police force went to Chelsea this morning to attend the banquet which was held in a hotel there under the auspices of the Police Baseball league.

The festivities opened at noon and moved to be very enjoyable. Music was in attendance and many clever orators delivered addresses on various topics. All who attended the event were royally entertained and the feast itself was the best ever. The baseball league was a big feature of last summer's sports and the team composed of the local police finished well up among the leaders. The party returned to this city this afternoon after having spent a very enjoyable day.

FOOT BADLY INJURED

Robert W. Jones Suffered Broken Toes When Wheel of Dump Cart Picked Over His Foot

A man named Robert W. Jones, aged 29 and residing at 49 Kirk street had his right foot badly injured today. Mr. Jones, who is employed by the Patterson Rubber Co., was, he said, driving a dump cart which was heavily laden. In his efforts to overturn the body of the cart to empty it in some manner got his foot caught underneath the heavy wheel of the wagon and had two toes broken. He also suffered a deep gash on the great toe which required three stitches to close. His foot was otherwise badly crushed and bruised. He was taken to the Emergency hospital where he received treatment.

Fell From Electric Car

John Gostarus, residing in Dover, N. H., had a narrow escape from being seriously hurt shortly before noon today when he stepped off a moving electric car in Middlesex street, near the corner of Baldwin street, Middlesex Village.

Gostarus has been in ill health and was on his way to Dr. Gostarus' sanitarium in Middlesex Village. When the car reached Baldwin street the man did not wait for it to come to a standstill but stepped off. Inasmuch as he was in a weakened condition the motion of the car threw him off his feet and he struck the ground and sustained a cut on the lip and several minor bruises. He was taken into the sanitarium where he received treatment.

INTEGRITY

[Reprinted from the Boston Post, Dec. 3]

In response to a request for his opinion on the report of the New Hampshire Public Service Commission, which was made public earlier in the day, President Charles S. Mellen said:

"I have not had an opportunity to read the very voluminous report just submitted by the commission, and so I am not prepared to discuss the recommendations of the commission.

"I have noticed, however, certain things in the report which are exceedingly gratifying, especially at this time, when there seems to be a renewal of the statements that the New Haven has not dealt fairly with the Boston & Maine, and a general agitation started against the New England railroad lines, which by false charges against the integrity of the management might become demoralizing to the railroad organization and harmful to the entire transportation and business interests of New England.

"It should be remembered that the Public Service Commission of New Hampshire has been investigating all matters relating to the Boston & Maine railroad and its control by the New Haven railroad for more than a year and has probed into every feature of railroad management.

"On the question of the effect of New Haven control the following statements are interesting:

Particular attention was devoted to the division of joint rates enjoyed by the Boston & Maine railroad and to the gateways of exchange on joint business with other carriers, and especially with the New Haven company, to determine whether full advantage and fair treatment was being obtained by the Boston & Maine railroad in those cases where it had the right to protect its long haul business and revenues.

The result of these investigations, it should be conceded, indicates that the acts of the New Haven company, since its dominant control, offer little ground for criticism in this particular, as it appears that where new joint rates have been established the basis of division is substantially that of a strict mileage proportion, or, where changes in the routes have been inaugurated between the two systems, resulting in a shorter haul for the Boston & Maine, that the old divisions have been continued through the new gateways of interchange, and the Boston & Maine has suffered no diminution of revenues.

"In the light of charges which are being loosely made as to coal contracts and other purchases, the following statement is particularly significant:

Special attention was given by the commission to the contracts for coal supply, and although it developed there was a close interlocking relation between those interested in the Virginia Iron, Coal & Coke Company, the Keystone Coal Company and the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad and its officers, and that these two coal companies together held contracts for 1,000,000 tons of the 1,500,000 tons needed to supply the Boston & Maine railroad's annual requirements, it appeared from the best outside information obtainable from those experienced in coal business that both the terms and prices were advantageous and favorable to the railroad company.

"The report further continues: 'In general, however, it was found that all efforts by those in immediate control of purchases were being bent to secure the best and most economical results, and especially is this true at the present time.'"

FEDERAL GRAND JURY

Continues Investigation in Alleged Illegal Traffic Agreement Between N. Y., N. H. & H. and the Grand Trunk

NEW YORK, Dec. 4.—The federal grand jury investigation into the alleged illegal traffic agreement between the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad and the Grand Trunk railroad to determine whether the Sherman anti-trust law has been violated was continued here today. Supplementing the testimony of H. H. Fitzhugh, vice president of the Grand Trunk, the only witness who testified yesterday, W. C. Bliss, chairman of the public utilities committee of Rhode Island, and Vice President Murdoch of the Southern New England railroad were among the witnesses, who it was expected would be called today by Assistant Attorney General Adkins, who is in charge of the investigation.

Mr. Fitzhugh, however, was recalled as the first witness. It is believed that his testimony had to do with the cessation of the construction work on the New England Southern, the Grand Trunk line which was to connect Providence with the Vermont Central, another Grand Trunk subsidiary.
